BOOKS

¶ For many years we have been selling books—Nothing but books. We can render unexcelled book service because

1—We handle nothing but books.
2—We always carry enormous stocks on hand.
3—We are located in the book centre of the country.
4—We purchase in big quantities—that means favorable discounts to the trade.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY COMPANY

Announces that it has undertaken the publication of books of permanent value

THE volumes described below are the first of a list which, from time to time, will be increased —not at stated intervals, and never for the sake of "getting out a book," but solely for the purpose of preserving in durable and attractive form such material from The Atlantic Monthly as seems to the editors clearly to demand a life longer than can be guaranteed through the pages of a periodical.

As the substance of these books has the quality of permanence, so their physical form makes them worth keeping. They are well printed, well bound, well made in every way.

We mean to give our volumes the same significance in the world of books which The Atlantic Monthly holds in periodical literature

THE ATLANTIC CLASSICS

A collection of sixteen of the most appreciated essays which have appeared in The Atlantic during recent years. A volume alluring to the general reader and inspiriting (as is shown by ample experience) for use in school and college. Four editions of The Atlantic Classics have been exhausted in a single year.

Price $1.25 postpaid.

Liberal discount for classroom use.

THE ASSAULT ON HUMANISM

By PAUL SHOREY

A brilliant offensive-defensive by a famous scholar whose polished style and ironical wit are of themselves an argument of the first order for retaining the study of the classics.

A charming example of bookmaking.

Price 60 c. postpaid.

ESSAYS AND ESSAY-WRITING

A textbook for college and high school English, consisting of 75 short familiar essays from the Contributors' Club of The Atlantic. Stimulating modern material, carefully edited and presented in a practical, usable manner. A pioneer book of exceptional promise.

Price 85 c. postpaid.

Liberal discount for classroom use.

TRADE SUPPLIED BY FREDERICK WARNE & CO., NEW YORK

A PLEA FOR SHAKESPEARE AND WHITMAN

Some findings for persons who like to do their own thinking. Boards, 62 pages, 50 cents.

"If you don't know Shakespeare or Whitman, and would like to—really—read the tiny guide which Mr. Call has written, and you will have a round-trip ticket on all lines leading to the centre of research on the uniquely united topic.—Ohio State Journal.

BOY'S BOOK ON LOGIC

A talk, not a treatise. Things in Logic that interest us, and help us to think straight. Cloth, 97 pages, 50 cents.

"The grown man or woman who overlooks it on account of the name is going to lose something valuable."—Cincinnati Star.

TEN GREAT LITTLE POEMS

Not by the old masters. Picked up adrift. Cloth, 76 pages, 50 cents.

"There is more in this tiny volume than appears on the surface or in the title page."—Minneapolis Journal.

YOU AND I AND THE STARS

A new view of the old way of telling why we are what we are. Cloth, 101 pages, 50 cents.

"A New York writer of no mean ability, Mr. William Timothy Call, is to be credited with hitting upon the first natural explanation of astral influence." —N. Y. Mail.

LIFE AS IT IS

Tragedy, laughter, and philosophy found in clippings from newspapers. Cloth, 89 pages, 50 cents.

"Out of the ordinary—and because it is, is what makes it the one book of the season worth reading." —Grand Rapids Herald.

BLACKMAIL

An episode in finesse. Cloth, 57 pages, 50 cents.

A humorous and ingenius essay to show how a crime story should be constructed."—N. Y. Sun.

THE LITTLE GRAMMAR

Original in every way—new in design, new in method, new in doctrine. Large type. Cloth, 35 pages, 50 cents.

"It epitomizes in thirty-five pages of concentrated wisdom all a boy would be expected to digest from a volume of 350 pages in the regular school course." —Albany Argus.

NEW METHOD IN MULTIPLICATION AND DIVISION

An excursion in the realm of Numbers. Cloth, 67 pages, 50 cents.

"All in all it is a curious but useful tract on numbers."—Trenton Advertiser.

SHORTHAND FOR GENERAL USE

Intended for those who would like to be able to write shorthand without hesitation, connecting one letter with another as freely as in longhand, and not be obliged to master a highly scientific treatise in order to obtain brevity and speed enough for common purposes. Paper, 36 pages, 25 cents.

"A little book. One of its great recommendations is its simplicity."—Rochester Post-Express.

SCIENTIFIC SOLITAIRE

A new game of Solitaire, or Patience, based on exact calculation, and eliminating memorizing. Paper, 27 pages, 20 cents.

"Any one understanding cards at all cannot fail to comprehend the author's clear and lucid explanation."—San Francisco Call.

RAMBLES WITH THE SWITCHER

An opening in the game of checkers. Cloth, 73 pages, 50 cents.

"It is a scientific discussion of the leading lines found in this most intricate and interesting opening, and the consensus of opinion of the leading writers and experts is given in the clear, scholarly manner which is second nature with the author. We can highly recommend the work to our readers."—Newark Sunday Call.

KBOO: The Counting Game

A scientific, historical pastime, with a past, a present, and a future. Paper, 25 pages, 25 cents.

"Among civilized people, chess and draughts can alone be classed as games of pure skill, entirely free from chance. A third game, Kboo, equally free from chance, and affording unlimited opportunity for the exercise of mental skill, is played over the whole of Africa and Southern Asia, and by the negroes of the West Indies, but seems never to have been taken up by European races."—National Geographic Magazine.

VOCABULARY OF CHECKERS

A dictionary of words, terms, and phrases used in the game called Checkers, or English Draughts. Cloth, 201 pages, $1.00.

"It is difficult to believe that so simple a game as checkers should have developed so extensive a vocabulary as Mr. William Timothy Call has gathered in 'Vocabulary of Checkers.' It fills 200 good-sized pages. The author's definitions are encyclopædic, and include a mass of interesting information about the game."—N. Y. Sun.

THE LITERATURE OF CHECKERS

A description of all the books, pamphlets, and magazines devoted to the game from 1756 to the present day; giving current value of all rare or scarce works; 227 entries. Cloth, 72 pages, $1.00.

"A magnificent and painstaking contribution to draughts literature."—Suffolk Chronicle, England.

R. D. YATES, CHECKER PLAYER

An intimate biography of the greatest of checker players; covering anecdotes, opinions, methods, triumphs, all his games in full; incidentally a history of checkers in America. Cloth, 152 pages, $1.00.

"We have rarely read so engrossing a work."—The Umpire, Manchester, England.

ELLSWORTH'S CHECKER BOOK

A book for beginners; arranged according to suggestions of the late Charles Ellsworth, the professional blind checker player. Paper, 65 pages, 25 cents.

"Contains in addition to much that is entertaining, some of the most valuable instruction on the rudiments of the game that is to be found in any treatise." Newark Advertiser.

THE SAFE CHECKER PLAYER

Vol. I.—The Black Side. Devoted exclusively to play; showing a safe course to the player who starts the game, however his opponent may attack him at any point. Leather, vest-pocket size, 50 cents.

Vol. II.—The White Side. A companion volume; showing a safe course to the second player, however his opponent may start the game or carry out the attack. Leather, vest-pocket size, 50 cents.

"These little books contain the essence of many volumes of published play, and are invaluable as a short but thorough equipment for the practical player."—Draughts World, Glasgow, Scotland.

MIDGET PROBLEMS IN CHECKERS

All the ideas in positions of 2 vs. 2 pieces. Boards, 72 pages, 50 cents.

"There is probably no game of which a superficial knowledge is more easily acquired than checkers, yet it is capable of a profundity of which the average player is entirely ignorant."—Scientific American.

Sewing—Domestic Art.

Constructive Sewing—Books 1-2-3-4— Mary E. Fuller.

The Personal, the Home and the Industrial phases are well cared for in these practical books. The main purpose is to give the students constructive power through independent thinking and doing. No samplers are used. The work is presented through lessons or chapters treating of construction, stitchery, choice of materials, textiles, and study of original problems. After completion of this course the students will have covered type problems with reference to all personal and home sewing. Without question, these are the most complete and usable Sewing books for students' use. Write for complete description and prices. Each .60.

Two books which should head your list—

"Story of the Automobile"

"Making Money Make Money"

By H. L. BARBER

Economist and Financial Writer

"STORY OF THE AUTOMOBILE" is a look backward, a close-up view of the present and a vision of the future of the motor car industry. It contains valuable information and authentie data for every one who buys, sells, invests, invents, professional and salaried men and women, every motor car owner. Illustrated with Charts and Comparative Tables, lists all makes of cars with prices. Over 250 pages. Price, $1.50.

"MAKING MONEY MAKE MONEY" contains real help for thinking men and women who wish to better their financial condition and acquire competencies through the creation of wealth, not through the avenues of speculation and gambling. Written from the author's practical experience and training in financial and industrial work for more than twenty-five years, and from authentic data gathered in that time. Price, $1.50.

Both books are printed from large, well-spaced type on high grade book paper, Cloth Bound, Gold Stamping. Can be secured through A. C. McClurg & Co., Chicago, or Baker & Taylor Co., New York, and other leading booksellers, or postpaid from the publishers.

The Man-Made World. $1.00 net, cloth

Here a woman of broad Humanitarianism and world-wide reputation shows the effect on Human life of too much masculine dominance.

Moving the Mountain. $1.00 net, cloth.

A new world story, with broadly active womanhood and strangely contented men.

The Crux. $1.00 net, cloth.

This is a smooth, pleasant, natural sort of story, out of which suddenly blazes the new morality, saying "Beware of a Biological Sin: for that there is no forgiveness." It is a story expressly written for girls, yet there will be some who would by no means allow girls to have such knowledge.

Human Work. $1.00 net.

The Sociological theory of this book, if established, will rearrange the "dismal science" of political economy from the ground up. It gives a new base to Socialism.

The Forerunner. Bound Volumes of The Forerunner. These volumes are not "Back Numbers," but a set of Gilman's Works, each volume of which amounts in bulk of material to four books of 63,000 words each. Price, $1.50 each, postpaid, except Vol. I, which is $2.50. Full set—$10.00 plus expressage.

Vol. I.—1909-1910. Fourteen monthly numbers. Covers bound in. Original advertisements. Contains besides stories, articles, allegories, and poems, the Serial Novel: "What Diantha Did." Serial book: "The Man-Made World."

Vol. II.—1911. "The Crux," "Moving the Mountain."

Vol. III.—1912. "Mag-Marjorie," "Our Brains and What Ails Them."

OLD SLIP, NEW YORK

1410 "H" STREET, N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C.

"THE BLESSINGS OF WAR," by P. H. W. Ross, author of "The Western Gate," etc. Answering the question, "Why are we fighting?" Mr. Ross discloses the high ideals which have led us to enter the conflict. Moreover, he tells us that to conscript the bodies of our young men is not enough. There remains the greater task of enlisting their hearts and minds as well. Unless their mental processes entirely desert them, they will realize that a military uniform is a badge of service, not of domination. This is exactly the difference between the American and Prussian point of view. Price $0.25

My Log

By Robert Barrie.

Reminiscences of a man who years ago drove a tandem-cart down sleepy Broadway and over the Brooklyn Bridge; knew Paris when Boulanger stirred the cafés and the abandon of the bal masqué still lived; danced in the Elysée in Carnot's time; garden-partied there in Loubet's; knew life in the studios in the Latin Quarter; played the gamin with Frank Millet; saw life behind the scenes and met Sir Henry Irving there; saw old Japan; voyaged through the East Indies; and met, among many others, J. P. Morgan and ex-President Taft.

Octavo, 152 pp, with 67 illustrations, cloth, $2.00.

Diseases of the Dog and Their Treatment

By Dr. Georg Muller, Professor, Director of the Clinic for Small Animals at the Veterinary High School at Dresdon, and Alexander Glass, A.M., V.S. (McGill), for thirty-three years (1885-1917), Lecturer on Canine Pathology in the University of Pennsylvania.

This work is the only serious one on the subject. The authors, equipped by long years of clinical practice and experience in Europe and America, have produced what has become the recognized work on the subject. The leading colleges in every English-speaking country have instantly recognized its value as a text-book and adopted it, and it has received the approval of the leading veterinarians and veterinarian journals.

New illustrations and plates, in colors (192 in all), increase the value of the work. Large octavo, 524 pages, art canvas, $6.00.

Strongly recommended by the Berlitz School of Languages

The Mercantile Speller

Containing the correct way of spelling words and their tenses, plurals, etc.

This, the only complete Thesaurus of the Anglo-Saxon tongue, forms a perfect companion for the busy correspondent. Many know perfectly what they wish to say, and how to say it, who are yet dubious on the correct orthography of the words they use, particularly in reference to the plurals, tenses, etc.; to these persons the present work is invaluable.

It contains more words in actual use than any dictionary, arranged in the most convenient form. There is an appendix containing unusual words with different meanings and spellings, so that the proper one can instantly be selected.

PRESS NOTICES.

CHRISTIAN WORLD—This is a timely, impersonal, dispassionate, analytical, unanswerable discussion of the weaknesses and inconsistencies of the Christian Science Church. It overflows with facts which provide the ground-work of the author's incisive arraignment. . . and is as clear as sunshine and as irrefutable as the decalogue. It is thoroughly up to date in its citations and statistics as these have been brought down to June, 1916.

THE EVANGELICAL MESSENGER—The spirit in which his exposures of inconsistencies in the organization are made is very commendable, and adds merit and pungency to his arguments and forceful statements. It is the only book of its kind on the market as far as we have any knowledge. The author has been very careful in supporting his statements of fact with profuse quotations. . . . His exposures of inconsistencies are mainly applicable to the church manual. It will be a very difficult task for any advocate of that church organization to refute the conclusive arguments of this trenchant writer and authoritative author. His versatility and frankness constitute quite an asset to his undertaking. . . . We wish the book God-speed on its mission of love and of usefulness.

THE PRESBYTERIAN ADVANCE—He brings and sustains many charges against the church he left. . . . There is added interest in the fact that Mr. Goodwin frequently appeals from the customs of that church to the teachings of the New Testament as well as to the teachings of Mrs. Eddy. Good will come if many evangelical church members will read this book. . . .

BAPTIST, THE REVIEW AND EXPOSITOR—The rule of the Church to avoid controversy will serve them well here, for they would find it impossible to answer this book.

THE LUTHERAN—Here is a shot from within the camp! . . . The writer proceeds to show much jugglery of principle in order to secure and hold certain property in Boston; the weakness of the Metaphysical College, with its limitation of students and its imbecile doctrine of conquering the world under its present narrow and abstruse government. The book is interesting to those who want to learn of the different opinions existing among Christian Scientists.

CHRISTIAN LEADER—This volume of 165 pages is rich. . . . We expect to quote considerable from this volume and recommend it to those who want to be posted on some of the inconsistencies of the Christian Science Church. . . . Mr. Goodwin is not seeking notoriety, but we believe him to be sincere in his exposition of some of their doctrine and practice.

STANDARD (Chicago)—The book is an outspoken protest to the monopolizing tendencies found in the administration of the Christian Science board of directors of "The Mother Church" and a criticism of several practices and tendencies found in the adherents of Christian Science. It opens up a little of the unsavory condition behind the scenes.

THE THERAPEUTIC RECORD. Its author is a man of ability and his earnestness is manifest at all times. The book can be read with interest and instruction.

ARTHUR E. GRINGLE, EDITOR, THE LYCEUM WORLD—He comes to the audiences of America with a message which, first of all, is the expression of his earnest convictions. Sympathetic, impersonal, dispassionate, yet earnest, analytical, forceful and eloquent, he discusses weakness and inconsistencies as few men can. His statements may startle, but the information he gives is authentic and can be substantiated. While he tells his truths graphically, gripping the hearer's attention, he never permits himself to forget exactness and clearness of presentation.

THE MEDICAL WORLD—This book is a scathing criticism of the "Christian Science" organization by a member of it and therefore is reliable.

OFFICIAL INDEX TO STATE LEGISLATION.

A Weekly Cumulative Numerical and Subject Index to All Bills Introduced in All State Legislatures.

Compiled and published, with the co-operation of State Libraries and Legislative Departments, under the direction of the Joint Committee on National Legislative Information Service of the National Association of State Libraries, and the American Association of Law Libraries.

The Index gives the number, date of introduction and name of introducer, subject and effect (short title) and position of every bill in every state legislature, arranged numerically, and also a classification of all bills by subjects. It is published weekly, including all changes in position of bills and all new bills introduced during the week. Each weekly issue is complete in itself, and enables the subscriber to ascertain the subject, nature and position in any legislature of any pending bill.

Subscription for 1918, $100.00. Sample sheets will be furnished on request.

THE Shannon Books

Sex Hygiene Personal and Social Purity, Eugenics

PERFECT WOMANHOOD. A book for every young woman. A companion volume to Perfect Manhood. It contains vital information, counsel, inspiration, and revelation for women. It is sane, safe, simple, scientific and practical. Women have their problems as well as men. The author has, for many years, lectured to mass audiences of women, and annually to many thousands of school and college girls. Many come to him with their problems, personally or by confidential correspondence.

Every woman over fifteen years of age should have a copy of this book.

Bound in fine cloth, postpaid, 75c.

PERFECT MANHOOD. A book for every man, single or married. Over 100,000 copies ordered in advance. Recently revised, greatly enlarged and appropriately illustrated. Every sentence of this greatest of all books for men is a chaste, practical, scientific explanation of man's sexual nature.

Bound in fine cloth, postpaid, 75c.

PERFECT BOYHOOD. For every boy from ten to fifteen years of age. Contains what boys ought to know and no more. Just to the extent that prevention is better than restoration or reformation, it is wiser to place Perfect Boyhood in the hand of a twelve-year-old boy than to wait until he is a young man, and then give him Perfect Manhood. Safeguard your boy with a knowledge of himself, and, when he is a man, he will possess self-control.

Bound in paper, 25c.; cloth, postpaid, 50c.

PERFECT GIRLHOOD. For every girl from ten to fifteen years of age. Contains what girls ought to know and no more. A companion volume to Perfect Boyhood.

Many mothers do not realize the social dangers to which small girls are exposed. It is wiser to place Perfect Girlhood in the hand of a twelve-year-old girl than to wait and give her Perfect Womanhood when she is sixteen.

Bound in paper, 25c.; cloth, postpaid, 50c.

HOW TO TELL THE STORY OF LIFE. Recently revised, greatly enlarged and illustrated—simple, practical, charming.

This valuable little book is uniform in size and style with Perfect Boyhood and Perfect Girlhood, and sells at same low price.

Postpaid, paper, 25c.; cloth, 50c.

HEREDITY EXPLAINED. Every child has an incontrovertible right to be well-born. No one has a moral right to foredoom his unborn child to a life of undevelopment on the earth plane, before it sees the light of day.

Price, postpaid, fine cloth, only 75c.; bound in paper, postpaid, 30c.

The Practical Lumberman

A book dealing with the merits and uses of Douglas Fir (Oregon Pine), California Redwood and leading commercial woods of the Pacific coast.

Size 4 x 6, well bound with silk cloth, stiff case; contains 256 pages of direct interest to Lumbermen, Loggers, Tallymen, Inspectors, Shipowners, or any one engaged in or contemplating entering the Domestic or Foreign Export Cargo Trade.

This book is not a calculator, but explains in detail the shortest methods of figuring all kinds of squared and tapering lumber, logs, octagon spars, metrical orders, specifications, weights, water and lumber carrying capacity of all classes of vessels.

An idea of the contents may be gathered from a few of the subjects treated, such as Scaling of Logs, Log Rules, Spaulding Log Scale, Kiln Drying Lumber, Silos and Silage, Wood Block Pavements. Pointers for charterers of vessels, ship's officers, supercargoes and stevedores on the correct way to load steamers with lumber.

Owing to the destruction of Railroads, Bridges, Docks and Buildings of every description caused by the "Great War," enormous quantities of lumber and especially long timbers will be required for repair work and permanent constructional purposes.

Every grade of lumber required can be furnished in Douglas Fir, also timbers or spars from 60 to 100 feet long in unlimited quantities.

To those requiring expert knowledge "The Practical Lumberman" can be absolutely relied upon as the author has personally supervised the manufacture, inspection or shipment of upwards of fifty million board feet of Douglas Fir annually for 25 years.

Mailed on receipt of price, $1.50.

The Tale of the Spinning Wheel

By
ELIZABETH C. BARNEY BUEL
State Regent, Connecticut Daughters of the American Revolution.

Illustrated by
EMILY NOYES VANDERPOEL
Author of "Color Problems" and "Chronicles of a Pioneer School."

PRESS NOTICES.

"A dainty and attractive little sketch and will be found a choice gift for the holidays."—Hartford Courant.

"'The Tale of the Spinning Wheel' is a prettily bound book containing a graciously worded paper on the art of linen and woolen manufacture as practised in New England. * * * With due reference to the antiquity of the art, Mrs. Buel weaves some pleasing details of the nearer colonial period with quotations of interest from letters and diaries."—Springfield Republican.

"The author's main idea is that the simple homeliness of the time of the spinning wheel, with all the dignity of labor which its use implied, ought not to be allowed to escape from our modern civilization. There is certainly much truth in this conception and Mrs. Buel has done a good thing in bringing it home so forcibly to her hearers and readers."—Providence Journal.

The book is an example of the artistic work of the University Press, being bound in white and gold, with design of musket and distaff. The illustrations are printed in sepia on the broad margins or let into the text, which is printed in handsome type.

Size 6⅝x9 inches; 60 pp. Price $1.00; postage additional, 7 cents.

The first edition sold itself without a dollar of advertising.

The second edition ready soon.

"Your book has interested me mightily."—Sir Clements Markham.

"A work of scholarly and painstaking investigation. Of especial interest and consequence is the account presented of the origin of the Monroe Doctrine, etc."—

The New York Times.

"Mr. Chandler's book affords a means for a busy man to gain an insight into Pan-American relations and influences without recourse to many volumes."—

The Washington Post.

"This book aims to furnish proofs that what was spoken, and written by both North and South Americans forecasted the Pan-American movement and formed the basis for the present Pan-American Union."—

The Catholic Historical Review.

Good Health and Long Life

By Wm. D. H. Brown, M. D., Chicago

A remarkably interesting and scientific book. Subjects usually dry and uninteresting are treated in an interesting and attractive manner. It is meat from cover to cover, and contains facts of vital importance not usually seen in a book of this kind. One physician states it is sure "multum in parvo," is full of good things from cover to cover. Every chapter is full of wisdom well stated. It is worth several times the price asked for it. A GUIDE TO BIBLE STUDY

A Systematic Course of Lessons
For the Sunday School and the Home
By HARRY E. RICHARDS, A. M., M. D.

In seven parts—a year's work to a part.
Parts 1-3 Junior; Parts 4-7 Intermediate.

The Sunday School Times: "The very simplicity of this plan is one of its strong points. It is a real guide to Bible study, sending pupil and teacher to the Word itself to get its consecutive teaching. It does away with scrappy study."

Watchman-Examiner: "These volumes would prove immensely valuable for the family study of God's Word,—a study that ought to be revived."

Cosmical Evolution, Critical and Constructive

By Evan McLennan

512 pp., 7½ x 5 inches, medium type, cloth bound, price $2.50 post-paid.

"It contains undoubtedly the most complete and destructive criticism of the accepted fundamental views of physical science that has ever been published; and it contains an equally complete constructive theory."—Popular Educator, January, 1917.

"'Cosmical Evolution' . . . is another one of the iconoclastic books of science for which the year 1916 is likely to be noted in history. . . . The present book . . . represents the author's life-work, is clearly written, logical and scholarly, and generally an admirable representation of the great subject."—Los Angeles Examiner, Dec. 30, 1916.

THE THEORY OF DEBIT AND CREDIT IN ACCOUNTING

By Robert Gardner McClung

Cloth, 12mo, 14 pp., $1.00, postpaid.

Of this book, the comptroller of one of the great railway corporations says: "It is a very convenient little volume to have available for ready reference, as your treatment of the subject is clear and logical."

The president of one of the foremost colleges of New England says: "You have certainly managed to condense into fourteen pages what it would take most people from fifty to a hundred pages to say."

An experienced accountant says: "It is the best exposition of the theory of accounting that I have seen."

Psychology of Salesmanship
AND
Psychology for Business Efficiency

By GEO. R. EASTMAN, A.M.

Cloth, 8vo, 2 vol. 265 and 267 pp. $2.00 each, 1916.

A reviewer says:

"Two books of particular help and interest to business men, both young and old, who are awake to the possibilities of themselves and the twentieth century. The thought is presented in a manner which dispenses with the academic and makes an appeal which is wholly practicable and workable in everyday life."—Town Development.

These books give the business man a clear, comprehensive, well-organized knowledge of mental processes, and are helpful in practical affairs.

The Analysis of Beauty

By WILLIAM HOGARTH

A REPRINT, including the plates formerly in portfolio, arranged in convenient form. Few books of this character, first issued 150 years ago, contain enough of interest and instruction for the modern reader and art student to warrant a reprint. Hogarth's rare book is an exception. It is still an authority frequently referred to and quoted by teachers and writers on art, and is the basis of many systems of instruction. This reprint has been highly commended for its convenient form and general make up.

A Remarkable Settlement of Ancient Date

Studies of some sturdy examples of the simple life, together with sketches of early colonial history of southern New Jersey.

The narrative of this unique colony of colored people—mulattoes; 200 years old; always free, a colonial settlement, the oldest of its kind in the United States—is interestingly told with early genealogical records of the stock families of Southern New Jersey, and historical sketches of Fenwick's colony. The book occupies a place of its own among books published by colored Americans, and has been highly commended in all parts of the country.

By Wm. Steward, A.M., and Rev. Theophilus G. Steward, D.D., Chaplain U. S. Army, retired. Cloth, 237 pages, 5¾ x 9, 35 illustrations, deckle-edged paper, gilt top and gilt plate on side and back, untrimmed front. Price, $2.50. Order from any book dealer.

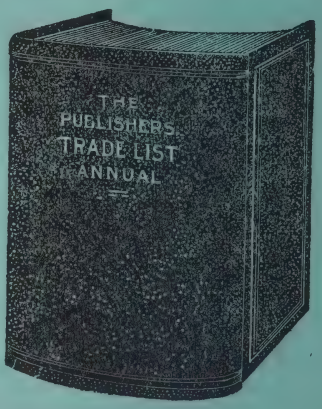
A PERFECT FILE

For the

Publishers' Weekly



WE have been using in our editorial rooms a very satisfactory binder, which we can recommend to our subscribers. By a very simple device, each number is quickly filed. It holds all the numbers of a volume (26), and enables one to keep his set in good order, and to open up at any page with the greatest ease.

It is known as the Big Ben Binder. Copies can be had with the name, Publishers' Weekly, stamped in gold on back-bone and on front cover, at $1.00 Carriage prepaid.

May we send you one?

WAYNE WHIPPLE BOOKS

The Story of Young George Washington

The Boston Advertiser in a long notice said: "This is not a history, except in so far as it includes the events of Washington's life up to the time of his marriage. It is a story for boys of the boy George; not the young prig of Mr. Weems' tales, but a living boy whose doings all American children can understand. His disappointment when his mother begs him not to go to sea, his surveying expeditions, his early fights with the Indians, and his later exploits at the Allegheny and at Fort Duquesne, are all recounted with liveliness, and with an understanding of the human values. The 'Father of His Country' becomes something more than a mere figure-head, a hero of history; he is brought back from the land of mythology, and made to live." And the Springfield Republican says: "The author has exercised excellent judgment in selecting his matter, and a capital story results."

The Story of Young Abraham Lincoln

The story of Abraham Lincoln's life is one of the most inspiring in American annals. Mr. Whipple has made a life study of Lincoln, and his graphic and vigorous book is crowded with anecdotes, adventures, and incidents—every one of which is true. The book should be read by every boy who makes the mistake of believing that success depends upon good chances. No boy who became famous had fewer chances than young Lincoln. He came into the world intellectually naked; was his own teacher; believed that all men are equal before God and before the law, and on this issue reached the Presidency of the United States; saw out the most gigantic civil war that the world has ever witnessed, and lived his life "with charity toward all and with malice toward none." A faith like Lincoln's would transform the world if our hearts could but catch its glow.

The influence of Lincoln's life will surely go on until the end of time. Think of what a simple, true-hearted, wholesome man may become to his country and its people.

The Story of Young Benjamin Franklin

The Record of Christian Work says: "Boys and girls will read and reread this book. The events of young Franklin's life from his earliest experiences, before the time he ran away from Boston, to the end of his eighty-four years, as here recited, are instructive and entertaining. Those who have not fully appreciated the life and work of 'B. Franklin, Printer,' will surely have a new view of this great man after reading this interesting book, which is heartily recommended to all young people."

"Many quotations from Franklin's 'Autobiography' show the keenness, depth and sagacity of this great philosopher, statesman and patriot. Love of truth, love of country, and love for humanity strongly predominate. As the author understandingly interprets Franklin's character, he points out, 'With him religion was tenderly interwoven with patriotism, and patriotism with him was religion of country.'

"Franklin's was truly a great life, and the honor he received while he lived was earned by hard labor and self-sacrifice. Whatever glory he had did not change his modesty and humbleness of spirit. To the end of his days, Franklin served his country with foresight, unselfishness, loyalty, and noble devotion."

Bound in Cloth, with Cover Designs in Colors, and with Decorative End Sheets. Large 12mo. Each volume containing Eight Original Full-page Colored Plates.

RED ROSES

BY

JOYCE THOMAS

"It is a plain love tale, recalling Mrs. Barclay at her fullest and most characteristic moments, but with a quality of warmth and ingenuousness that the author of 'The Rosary' has yet to match." —Pall Mall Gazette (London).

"It is true to life on every page. The whole story is life—real life—finely holding and immensely amusing."—Bystander (London).

12mo. Cloth. Price, $1.50 Net.

The Conquest of the United States Series

By H. IRVING HANCOCK

A realistic account of the "Invasion of the United States." The ruin and devastation that followed. The helplessness of the inadequate American Army in face of a well-equipped foe. Tells how bitterly we paid for our unpreparedness. Mr. Hancock is the boys' author par excellence, and they know it. Everything that he has written is stirring and manly. His stories inspire a love for straightforwardness, truth, and courage, and are replete with merit, character, and general interest. Over two million readers have followed the fortunes of the famous "Dick Prescott." The "Dick Prescott Books" have broken the records of all the "best sellers"—they are full of adventure, fascinating and satisfying.

THE INVASION OF THE UNITED STATES; Or, Uncle Sam's Boys at the Capture of Boston.

THE AMERICAN ACADEMY OF POLITICAL AND SOCIAL SCIENCE

Origin and Purpose.—The Academy was organized December 14, 1889, to provide a national forum for the discussion of political and social questions. The Academy does not take sides upon controverted questions, but seeks to secure and present reliable information to assist the public in forming an intelligent and accurate opinion.

Publications.—The Academy publishes annually six volumes dealing with the most prominent current social and political problems. Each volume contains from twenty to thirty papers upon the same general subject. The larger number of papers published are solicited by the Academy; they are serious discussions, not doctrinaire expressions of opinion. The Academy publications give the most comprehensive account anywhere obtainable of the political and social questions that have been before the American people during the past twenty-five years.

Meetings.—The Academy holds four scientific sessions each year during the winter months, and it also has an annual meeting in the Spring, extending over two full days and including five or six sessions. The papers of permanent value presented at the meetings are included in the Academy publications.

Membership.—Membership in the Academy may be secured by applying to the Secretary, Logan Hall, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia. The membership fee is $5.00; life membership fee, $100. Members receive all the regular publications of the Academy, are invited to attend and take part in the scientific meetings, and have the privilege of applying to the Publication Board for information upon current political and social questions.

THE ANNALS OF THE AMERICAN ACADEMY OF POLITICAL AND SOCIAL SCIENCE.

A bi-monthly periodical, sent free to members of the Academy. Each number contains about 250 pages, devoted to Leading Articles and Book Reviews. Six numbers yearly. NOTICE TO PURCHASERS

Orders. Each order should be clearly written and signed by the purchaser. It should give the post office, county, and State, and also indicate whether the goods are to be sent by mail, express, or freight; and, where the name of the railroad or express station differs from that of the post office, it should be stated.

Exact Titles. All orders should give the exact titles of the books as printed in our price lists; otherwise, we cannot be held responsible for errors in shipping. In ordering by telegraph, purchasers may use the code words given in this Price List.

Order Early. Orders are usually filled on the day on which they are received, but just before the opening of schools this is not always possible. To insure prompt delivery due allowance should be made for unavoidable detentions and orders should be sent early.

Special. We supply only our own publications. Where any of our printed books are not readily obtainable through the trade, they will be sent by us postpaid on receipt of the list prices. Postage on blank books, drawing books, blanks, and tablets will be at purchaser's expense. Books sent as ordered are not returnable. Orders for first introduction must give the names of the books to be displaced as well as those to be introduced. Keys and Translations will be supplied to teachers only.

Remittances. Each order should be accompanied by a remittance, unless the purchaser has an open account. Remittances by draft are preferred, but post office money orders or express money orders may be used, if more convenient. Purchasers who wish to open an account should apply for terms and give references showing financial ability, promptness, and general responsibility.

Mail, Parcel Post, and Express. Packages of printed books under 8 oz. may be sent at the rate of 1c. for 2 oz. Packages between 8 oz. and 50 lbs. may be sent by Parcel Post in accordance with the new zone rates, ascertainable at any post office. Packages of any weight may be sent by express. In the absence of specific instructions, we will send packages by the cheapest transportation.

THE MERRIAM SCHOOL SERIES

Webster's Secondary-School Dictionary

70,000 words and phrases. 1,000 illustrations. 864 pages, $6\frac{1}{4} \times 8\frac{5}{8}$ inches. Plain, $1.50. Indexed, $1.80.

Presents the largest number of words and phrases ever included in a school dictionary. The wide scope of its vocabulary, the clearness of its etymologies, the simplicity and accuracy of its definitions, the nicety of its synonyms and illustrative examples, and the helpfulness of its supplemental tables, have given this volume a great vogue in schools of all grades.

Webster's Elementary-School Dictionary

45,000 words and phrases. 900 illustrations. 720 pages, $5\frac{3}{8} \times 7\frac{3}{4}$ inches. 90 cents.

Carefully planned to meet the needs of all the elementary grades and other schools in which etymologies are not taught. It contains all words found in the school texts generally used, and includes the technical expressions of ordinary business and words used in elementary sciences. Unusual attention is devoted to making a word's meaning clear to immature minds, especially by the use of illustrative sentences or phrases and by discriminating synonyms. Inflected forms are given when irregular.

Webster's Shorter School Dictionary

35,000 words and phrases. Fully illustrated. 544 pages, $5\frac{1}{8} \times 7$ inches. 60 cents.

Though small, this book is remarkably complete, presenting not only common words but technical and scientific terminology and up-to-date words needed by elementary pupils. It is unique among smaller dictionaries in making clear grammatical difficulties. Within its scope it is authoritative.

THE PROPHETS AND THE WAR

By Charles Carroll Albertson, D.D.

Lafayette Avenue Presbyterian Church, Brooklyn, N. Y.

What is to come after the War? This is a volume of prophecy with a real application to the events of to-day and to-morrow. There is still a great message and lesson to be learned in this world war from Hosea, Micah, Habakkuk and Isaiah, in fact all the Prophets. The truths which the prophets left to us have always had an amazing application, and more and more is this so as time goes on.

Dr. Albertson in his "Prophets and the War" has brought forward all the evidence from the prophets in a decidedly masterly manner and from it has shown what is happening and what will happen after the war. With the interest lately shown in prophecy, it is a very important book.

THE HIGH ROAD

By Emma S. Allen

Author of "The Awakening of the Hartwells"

A group of young co-eds in the University of California find themselves drawn into the vortex of a State Prohibition Campaign. Some are on the "dry" side and some are on the "wet." And both sides work vigorously for their respective causes. How one "took the High Road" and one "took the Low Road" and met after long deviations, not on the shores of "bonnie Loch Lomond," but on the shores of San Francisco Bay, is delightfully narrated by this Western authoress.

AS HIS MOTHER SAW HIM

By Charlotte E. Gray

A really beautiful picture of the home at Nazareth, the girl Mary, the exultant woman Mary, the Mary bowed with grief and yet gaining a higher womanhood through her sorrow. Always after the public life of the Saviour begins she, the Mother, hovers on the edge of it. She learns day by day that while she is of it, she is also apart from it, and finally emerges into the supreme renunciation as she enters into a spiritual understanding of the divine mission of the Saviour. The relation of Mary and Jesus is most delicately and tactfully defined. The story will help young people as well as their elders to a clearer perception of the life of our Saviour.

ANNA COOPE: SKY PILOT OF THE SAN BLAS INDIANS

An Autobiography

This is the story of a young girl who was confident she had a work to do in the world and was determined through every obstacle to find and do it. Even as a young mill girl she commenced the work and is still doing it. What Mary Slessor did for her African people Anna Coope is doing for her Panamanian Indians. It is a romance hardly believable, yet so simply and straightforwardly told that there can be no doubt of its truth. There is not a dull page in the book.

ALMETTA OF GABRIEL'S RUN

By Louise S. Murdock

A true story of the Mountain Whites. These mountaineers have been so long shut away from the rest of the world that they have become a people by themselves. The scene is laid in the Cumberland mountains and Almetta is a true-going little heroine. Through her this new authoress reveals the homes and hearts, the romances and the tragedies, of the people she has so intimately known and so long loved. Through their external sturdiness and uncouthness she makes us see a heart and love akin to our own.

THE NATIONAL PET STOCK FANCIER.

A monthly magazine devoted to the raising of Squabs, Belgian Hares, Flemish Giants, New Zealand Reds, Honey Bees, Cavies, etc., both for food and for pleasure. In view of the necessity of the American people producing more food this magazine is very valuable as it teaches how any back yard or wwaste space a few feet square may be utilized for producing the food at a very small cost for any family. Price $1 per year (in advance).

SQUABS, AND HOW TO RAISE THEM. Price 25c.

Complete compendium showing enormous profits to be made, how to raise them and how to find a profitable market.

HARES FOR FOOD AND FOR PROFIT. Price 25c.

Showing the possibility and cheapness of producing various breeds of Hares for pleasure or for food. A very valuable booklet.

CAVIES OR GUINEA PIGS. Price 25c.

Three hundred Cavies will pay a net profit of $600 to $1200 yearly and this book tells all about it.

ADAIR, WARD W.

Lure of the Iron Trail. Cloth, *1.00

"Like Begbie's 'Twice-Born Men,' this is a collection of tremendous stories of Christian conversion—the kind of conversion that makes foul men clean and wicked men righteous and weak men adamant against temptation. The material is all drawn from the life of railroad men."—The Continent.

Men of Steel. (c) In pamphlet or loose-leaf form. *10; per dozen, *.80

Great men of the Old Testament form the subject of twelve lessons. In each lesson there are questions, a topic for debate, weekly thought, and a short bibliography.

Outline Studies in the Book of Romans. (d) Cloth, *.40; paper, *.25

"This very simple analysis of the Epistle to the Romans, by reducing to orderly arrangement the themes and teaching of the book, makes a plain pathway through a part of the Bible which laymen are disposed to regard as hard to read and hard to understand."—The Continent.

Wrecks and Heroes. (c) In pamphlet or loose-leaf form. *.10; per dozen, *.80

A course of sixteen lessons on New Testament characters, similar in treatment to the course Men of Steel, which it may well follow.

ADAM, JOHN DOUGLAS.

Paul in Everyday Life. (c) † Thin paper, art leather, round cornered, pocket size. *.60

An "Everyday Life" Book.

A companion volume to the widely used "Christ in Everyday Life." Daily readings from the epistles with personal applications.

Under the Highest Leadership. (c) † Art leather, thin paper, round corners, pocket size. *.60

An "Everyday Life" Book.

In this new Everyday Life book you will feel the inspiration of a close comradeship with Christ—a comradeship which results in a life lived under the direction of the "Highest Leadership."

ALEXANDER, JOHN L.

Boy and the Sunday School. (Boy Life Series.) Cloth, *1.00

This volume of expert method and suggestions for leaders and teachers in the Sunday school aims to promote the better handling of the so-called boy problem. With forceful directions and practical insight it grasps the essential difficulties to be met and points the way to an effective solution. Bibliographies prepared for each chapter add a valuable feature to the book.

ALEXANDER, JOHN L., Editor.

Boy Training. (Boy Life Series.) A Handbook of Suggestions for Leaders of Boys. *.75

This book is written by a group of experts having in mind the boy's all-round development. The principles of adolescence and physiological grouping are fully discussed. The boy's relation to the home, school, church and to his leisure time is treated, with reference to the actual facts of today. A chapter on the various existing organizations that are making a contribution to boy training and one on the spirit of service close the book.

Sunday School and the Teens. Cloth, *1.00

The very illuminating facts and suggestions resulting from a painstaking study of the various phases of the teen age problem by the members of the Adolescent Commission appointed by the San Francisco Convention. A book that will well repay close study by everyone concerned in this difficult work.

Teens and the Rural Sunday School. Cloth, *.50

An exhaustive study of the adolescent from the rural point of view. Sunday school organization is dealt with from the angle of the small town and open country, the various cooperative activities are discussed, and definite relations pointed out as regards the Sunday school, while leadership, teaching and the plans for a rural life survey receive adequate attention. The bibliography is especially valuable in its reference to these subjects.

BAKER, G. C.

Indoor Games and Socials for Boys. Cloth, *.75

The author has gathered from many sources games that will strongly appeal to boys, at the same time having a cultural value.

BALL, W. H.

Construction of Swimming Pools. .15

The very real dangers which may arise from the use of poorly constructed pools have led to a discussion of the whole question of indoor swimming equipment, and a thorough investigation of location, materials, lighting, drainage, etc. This pamphlet summarizes the results of this study, and is full of valuable suggestions.

BANKS, EDGAR J.

Bible and the Spade. Cloth, *1.00

Descriptions of those discoveries which have shed a direct and wonderful light on the Bible. A book especially appropriate for the busy man, and designed to awaken interest in a deeper and more intelligent study of The Book.

BARBOUR, C. A., Editor.

Bible in the World of Today. Cloth, *.75

An up-to-date presentation of the place and power of the Bible in modern life, showing how we got our Bible, reasons why it should be studied and practical suggestions as to the methods of study. Contributions by leading Bible teachers and students of this and other countries make it of unusual value and interest.

BARBOUR, C. A., Editor (continued).

Fellowship Hymns.
Single copies, postpaid, *.45
Per hundred, plus carriage, *35.00

A new book prepared to meet the needs of brotherhoods, Sunday schools and the various requirements of the church. The best in words and music, rigorously chosen from the whole range of hymnology and containing absolutely no "padding."

"Beyond question the best that has been put upon the market for many, many years."—New York Christian Advocate.

Making Religion Efficient. A manual of work with men and boys. Cloth, *1.00

"This volume preserves for us the heart of the messages delivered by the teams of specialists who led the Men and Religion Forward Movement. The survey charts are most valuable, and the book as a whole is a distinct contribution to the various lines of Christian activity with which it deals."—The Examiner.

Men and Religion Songs.
Single copies, postpaid, *.25
Per hundred, plus carriage, *20.00

This comprises selections from "Fellowship Hymns," especially chosen because of their suitability and popularity in meetings of men.

Principles and Methods of Religious Work for Men and Boys. (Atlantic City Edition.) Cloth, *.75

A resultant of a conference of eighty leading specialists and secretaries of the Young Men's Christian Associations of North America. It is the successor to the Bronxville Manual which has had such a wide circulation not only in Young Men's Christian Associations but throughout the churches. It represents the very best thought as to religious work for men and boys up to the present time. No pastor, no Association secretary, and no Christian worker should be without this book.

BATEMAN, CHAS. T.

Life of General Booth. (M. & R. Series.) Cloth, *.60

This book is intended primarily for the youth whose claims received unfailing recognition from General Booth in his work for humanity. This volume will be found as unlimited in its appeal as was the message of the universally beloved leader it describes.

BEGBIE, HAROLD.

Twice-Born Men. (M. & R. Series.) Cloth, *.60; postpaid, .70

A stirring portrayal of regeneration. Pres. Wm. De W. Hyde of Bowdoin College says, "It is a splendid verification of the truth and power of Christianity."

BOOTH, E. W.

Good News by John. (c)
In three parts, each, .15

Consecutive studies in the fourth gospel, covering a year and a half. Twenty-six lessons in each part.

BOSWORTH, E. I.

Call for Character. Boards, *.25
Paper, .05; per dozen, *.40

A stirring appeal to use one's life for the highest purpose.

Can Prayer Accomplish Anything Apart from the Man Who Prays? .10
Per dozen, *.80

A fresh and stimulating presentation of prayer as the relation between friendly men and a friendly God.

Christ in Everyday Life. (c) † Thin paper, art leather, round cornered, pocket size. *.60

An "Everyday Life" Book.

Selected verses for daily devotional use with a paragraph of comment for suggested meditation so personally practical that it can scarcely fail, if honestly applied, to bring results. Each study is complete in itself.

New Studies in Acts. (d) † Cloth, *.60

Nineteen studies of the important incidents and truths of Acts put together in clear and attractive style.

Studies in the Life of Jesus Christ. (d) † Cloth, *.60

A thirty weeks' course of study in the New Testament. There are five divisions: Detailed Study up to the Last Week, chiefly according to Mark; General Survey up to the Last Week, according to Matthew; General Survey up to the Last Week, according to Luke; Detailed Study of the Last Week of Christ's Life, according to the synoptic gospels; Studies in Christ's Life, as presented in John's Gospel.

Teaching of Jesus and His Apostles. (e) † Cloth, *.50; postpaid, .60

The great subjects involved in the teachings of Christ and His apostles are here considered, such as Christ's Messiahship, the Kingdom of God, the Resurrection, the Holy Spirit, Prayer, Missionary Enterprise, etc. Thirty lessons.

Thirty Studies About Jesus. (c) Art leather, small pocket size. *.50

In this series of Studies, Dr. Bosworth takes up the main points in the life and teachings of Jesus Christ. Through the use of thought-producing questions at the end of each study, relating to the preceding text and its application to everyday life and character, he throws new light on the meaning of life and its possibilities. The book makes an appeal to those who know Him to know Him better and to those who are indifferent to Him it is a challenge.

BRINK, B. DEANE.

Body Builder. Cloth, *1.00

A study of the contribution made by Robert J. Roberts to the development of the Physical Department of the Young Men's Christian Association through his theory, his technique, and his character. Drills and exercises are given that have been successfully used for years, and health hints in Mr. Roberts' characteristic vein.

BRINK—SMITH.

Athletes of the Bible. Cloth, *.40

An unusual series of studies of biblical characters in which the physical qualifications of the great leaders are made to emphasize the spiritual foundation of their lives, with the purpose of leading boys and young men to see that real religion is essential to efficiency and satisfaction. The impression is increased by frequent illustrations from the modern athletic world.

BROWN, JOHN, JR., M.D.

Outdoor Athletic Test for Boys. Paper, *.20

An effort to meet the demand for a standard grading and athletic test in rural schools that will create enthusiasm for physical development of the right sort.

BROWN, JOHN RICHARD.

Jesus the Joyous Comrade. Boards, *.40

Christ is here presented as the strong leader of strong men; as one who enjoys doing hard things because he sees victory at the end. A character-building book on the order of the widely useful "Second Mile" by Harry Emerson Fosdick.

Worship. Pamphlet, .15; per dozen, *1.20
Per hundred, *9.00

A masterly summing up of "worship, its place in the religious life, and the difficulties which confront us when we try to realize its highest ideal."

BURR, H. M.

Around the Fire. Stories of Beginnings. Library buckram, *.75

Hero tales—splendid stories for camps and the home circle, especially appropriate for the librarian's "story hour."

Calling of Boyman. Boards, *.50

The vividly told story of a young man's religious development and the experiences which influenced his choice of a career.

BUTTERFIELD, KENYON L.

Call of the Country Parish. .10
Per dozen, *.80

A clear, forceful statement of the present crisis in our rural religious and social life, and a strong appeal for the leadership of the best qualified men for the difficult task of making life in rural communities happy and effective.

Place of the Y. M. C. A. in the New Rural Awakening. Pamphlet, .10
Per hundred, *5.00

Kenyon L. Butterfield as President of the Massachusetts Agricultural College is thoroughly familiar with the needs of the rural community, and admirably fitted to discuss the place of the Y. M. C. A. in helping to meet these needs effectively. It is a little pamphlet which has a particularly strong appeal at the present time.

CASALIS, ALFRED EUGENE.

For France and the Faith. Translated by W. E. Bristol. Paper boards, *.60

Fragments of letters written from barrack rooms and the front by a young French soldier. These letters of unusual charm reflect the spirit of the consecrated youth of France, the courage, patriotism, and large vision of duty which a soldier of Jesus Christ owes his country as well as his God.

"I have seldom read anything more sincere and more touching; profoundly thoughtful and yet perfectly simple and natural."—Hon. James Bryce.

CHELEY, F. H.

Adventure of a Prodigal Father. Cloth, *.50

This small book tells in an interesting and forceful way the story of a father, who, roused by the experience of a friend, starts out to get acquainted with his son and makes some startling discoveries. Fathers, and especially city fathers, will feel the challenge of the story and for every reader it has an unusual appeal.

Big Brother Investment. Cloth, *.50

This book again demonstrates Mr. Cheley's knowledge of boy nature and its needs. He tells here in vivid fashion the story of a fatherless boy, the strong downward pull of "the gang," and his many exciting experiences, with the eventual awakening of all that is best in the boy through the confidence and friendship of a man whom he admires.

Told by the Camp Fire. Cloth, *.75

Tales of camp life in the Rocky Mountains, full of exciting adventure of a novel sort, and with a refreshing sparkle of humor. Manly qualities are appreciated in a way that is fascinating and helpful to boys. A fine book for the home, boys' clubs and at camp.

CHELEY—BAKER.

Camp and Outing Activities.
Buckram, *1.50

Any leader who has had a camp go "flat" will appreciate the value of this wealth of social, athletic and religious activities for boys in camp. From this series of games, stunts, songs, plays, nature study, Bible study, etc., the busy leader will have no difficulty in arranging a program for either indoors or in the open, for all kinds of weather. The material has been thoroughly tested in the most successful camps in the country. Over sixty diagrams and pictures make everything easily understood.

CHESLEY, A. M.

Social Activities for Men and Boys.
Cloth, *1.00

A digest of material furnished by men who have done successfully the things they describe. Social events, games, entertainments, etc., all described as a means of attracting and holding men and boys so that they may be led into the fullest and happiest kind of life of body, mind and spirit.

CHESLEY, A. M. and B. H.

Mission Study for Older Boys.
Pamphlet, *.20

For the guidance of leaders conducting mission study classes for older boys, using Eddy's "New Era in Asia."

CLARKE, GEORGE.

True Manhood. (M. & R. Series.)
Cloth, *.60

For the "un-get-at-able" man. A tactful yet uncompromising means of approach to the man who is a "good fellow"—but who leaves God out. The chapters deal with sin; steps back to God; a great purpose, etc.

COCKS, O. G.

Engagement and Marriage. (Sex Education Series.) Boards, *.25
Pamphlet edition, per hundred, carriage collect. *7.50

The practical consideration of marriage as definitely related to social and economic conditions, and therefore requiring certain personal and general knowledge which most young men do not possess. A simple, straightforward discussion of all that marriage involves.

Social Evil and Methods of Treatment. (Sex Education Series.)
Boards, *.25
Pamphlet edition, per hundred, carriage collect. *7.50

Designed for use as a basis and outline for discussion in groups of laymen, such as men's clubs in churches.

COFFIN, HENRY SLOANE.

Christian and the Church. .10
Per dozen, *.80

An earnest appeal to the individual to fulfil his spiritual indebtedness. A summons to Christian endeavor that the Church may include the widest possible differences within a unity of spirit that shall make it function harmoniously and unitedly for its one divine purpose.

COOK, J. W.

Introduction to Bible Study. (c) †
Cloth, *.25; paper, *.15

Designed for the average Bible class student.

CORSAN, G. H.

At Home in the Water. Swimming, Diving, Water Sports, Life Saving. Revised and enlarged. Cloth, *1.00
Linen-lined paper, *.25

The author has started thousands of men and boys on the way to mastery of the various strokes—under-arm, over-arm, crawl, etc. Over one hundred practical illustrations are shown.

DAVIS, OZORA S.

Meeting the Master. (c) † Art leather, thin paper, round corners, pocket size. *.60

An "Everyday Life" Book.

Our Lord's conversations with John the Baptist, the Woman of Samaria, Matthew, the Rich Young Ruler, and others, are studied one by one, in order to bring out the essential traits of His character, and His effect on the lives of those who came into close personal contact with Him.

Using the Bible in Public Address.
Cloth, *.75

Every layman in Christian work, either as a volunteer or a professional, faces the problems of using Bible material in addresses without such previous preparation as is afforded by a course of theological study. This book is designed to indicate the lines along which such laymen may prepare themselves to become effective and true expositors of the Gospel message. It is arranged so that it may be used as a textbook where desired.

DAVISON, W. J.

Gymnastic Dancing. Cloth, *1.00

Rhythmic exercises for classes of men and boys. Illustrated with half-tones and diagrams. Adopted by the Physical Directors' Society of the Y. M. C. A.

DE PUY—TRAVIS.

Outline Studies in Biblical Facts and History. (c) † Cloth, *.35; paper, *.20

A course of twenty-six lessons—four introductory, seven on the Old Testament, thirteen on the life of Christ and the early church, and a review and questions for examination. Twenty maps and charts.

DEVINE, E. T.

Family and Social Work. Cloth, *.60

"A skilful interweaving of academic interests with the social ideal, the religious motive and the practical purpose, in a way to appeal to the student's mind."—The Survey.

DODS, MARCUS.

Bible: Its Origin and Nature. (M. & R. Series.) Cloth, *.60; postpaid, .70

Seven lectures delivered before Lake Forest College on the Foundation of the late William Bross. Contents: 1. The Bible and other Social Books; 2. The Canon of Scripture; 3. Revelation; 4. Inspiration; 5. Infallibility; 6. Trustworthiness of the Gospel; 7. The Miraculous Element in the Gospels.

DOGGETT—BURR—BALL—COOPER.

Life Problems. (d) † Paper, *.25

This series of twenty-four lessons deals with matters closely related to the life of young men, such as social relationships, temptations, livelihood.

Robert R. McBurney. Cloth, *1.00

One of the great men in Association history was Robert McBurney, "the leading general secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association." His influence was felt in the work far beyond American boundaries. A life story well worth reading.

DRUMMOND, HENRY.

Ideal Life. (M. & R. Series.) Cloth, *.60 Postpaid, .70

At the time of the first publication of "Ideal Life," Dr. W. Robertson Nicoll in the British Weekly said: "This newly published volume of addresses by Professor Drummond will commend itself to many readers more than any of his other works. There burns throughout them a powerful flame that can illuminate or melt, and we cannot believe that any one can study them carefully and rise from the perusal the same as he was."

EARP, E. L.

Rural Church Movement. Cloth, *.75

This book shows the need and call for spiritual leadership in rural America, giving the causes for rural church decline and the awakening interest in rural religious and social problems, including specific surveys and definite plans for bettering conditions. A selected bibliography is appended.

EDDY, G. SHERWOOD.

Doubt. .10; per dozen, *.80

Practical suggestions for those having intellectual difficulties regarding the Christian faith.

Life and What to Live For. .10 Per dozen, *.80

Taking the scientific definition of life as adaptation to environment, the author in a straightforward and convincing way shows how a man may make his life right with himself, with God, and with society.

Maker of Men. Pamphlet, .10

A series of biblical, historical and modern examples which prove beyond the shadow of a doubt that Christ is the Maker of Men.

Temptation and How to Meet It. .10 Per dozen, *.80

A powerful, sympathetic message to men who find it hard to live right—a message that reveals our spiritual resources in the fight, and the assurance of victory. In simple, manly fashion the author shows how to develop an evil-resisting character. The argument is peculiarly effective because of the quantity and character of the illustrative material.

EDWARDS, RICHARD HENRY.

Christianity and Amusements. Thin paper, art leather, round cornered, pocket size. *.60

"In this long-awaited first book of its kind primary emphasis is placed on a formative ideal, a constructive method and positive program. All dogmatism is thrown aside and an inductive method used throughout. No such systematic and adequate treatment of Christian principles in relation to amusements has been attempted hitherto."—Graham Taylor.

Popular Amusements. Cloth, *1.00

The peculiar value of this volume is attested by its publication in advance as a bulletin of the Extension Division of the University of Wisconsin. Under five classifications and by a unique method the author measures the extent and morals of commercial amusements, and gives practical suggestions, extensive bibliographies and a splendid list of questions for debaters.

EDWARDS—CUTLER.

Life at Its Best. (d) † Thin paper, art leather, round cornered, pocket size. *.60

The third volume in the College Voluntary Study Courses, designed for first semester sophomore groups. A searching study of the Apostle Paul, not as a theologian but primarily as a man of action.

ELLIOTT—CUTLER.

Student Standards of Action. (c) † Thin paper, art leather, round cornered, pocket size. *.60

The first volume in the College Voluntary Study Courses, designed for first semester freshman groups. A frank consideration of twelve outstanding student questions from the viewpoint of Jesus' standards of action. The book looks directly to the life and words of Jesus for a solution of the problems, carefully avoiding the proof-text method.

EVANS, THOMAS ST. CLAIR.

Church at Work in the Universities. Paper, *.20

A clear, concise statement of principles and methods in the organization of religious work for students, with particular attention to the large cosmopolitan universities. Based on long experience.

EXNER, M. J., M.D.

Friend or Enemy? Pamphlet, .10 .80 dozen; 5.00 per hundred plus carriage

A strong argument for sexual purity. It places the emphasis not merely on the avoidance of disease but on justice to woman, responsibility to society, the joy and power of right living.

Physician's Answer. .15; per dozen, 1.50

An appeal for sexual continence that makes men think. Contains a statement that continence is essential to the highest physical, mental and moral efficiency, and a list of over three hundred prominent physicians who signed it. Highly endorsed by leading educators, and social and religious leaders. Every unmarried man should read this booklet.

Rational Sex Life for Men. Cloth, *.50

A real dynamic in the fight against sex evils. It gives the true perspective to the whole problem by insisting that men should maintain high sex ideals, not merely because of danger to themselves, but as a solemn duty to womanhood, to posterity and to our whole social system. A book that inspires to purity.

FALCONER, R. A.

Truth of the Apostolic Gospel. (e) † Cloth, *.75; paper, *.50

The essence of the gospel is presented in thirty lessons. The book will aid those troubled with doubts to understand the convincing reasons for belief.

FARIS, JOHN T.

Christian According to Paul. (c) † Thin paper, art leather, round cornered, pocket size. *.60

An "Everyday Life" Book.

Studies in the message of Paul covering a period of thirteen weeks, arranged with daily readings—Scripture printed in full—and a summary of each topic for the week. This volume presents a practical exposition of Paul's idea of the new life according to the plan of Jesus Christ. The comment is right down upon the level of everyday living and is illuminated everywhere by a wealth of apt and telling illustrations. It is a forceful and original treatment of a great theme.

FISHER—BERRY.

Physical Effects of Smoking. Cloth, *1.00; linen, *.50

There is a prevailing opinion that smoking in "moderation" is harmless. Is this opinion merely a concession to popular custom? This book is a series of original experimental studies, scientific in spirit and method, to determine the effects of smoking on heart rate, blood pressure, return of the heart to normal after exercise and neuro-muscular control. The book is intended for both popular reading and thorough study.

FISKE, G. W.

Boy Life and Self-Government. (Boy Life Series.) Cloth, *1.00

Professor Fiske's published studies and years of actual experience with boys are crystallized in this book. Some of the problems discussed are boy life in the light of the race life, the boy and his instincts, his struggles for character, the epochs of boyhood and youth, clubs for boys, by-laws of boy leadership, the boy's home and his religion.

Challenge of the Country. Cloth, *.75

"A vital, comprehensive and adequate book. It keeps close to the concrete, is replete with facts, shows a big grasp of the subject, and is well built for textbook use."—Prof. E. A. Ross, University of Wisconsin.

FOSDICK, HARRY EMERSON.

Challenge of the Present Crisis. Boards, *.50

The author of "The Meaning of Prayer" and "The Manhood of the Master" again shows his remarkable skill for summing up what men are thinking about.

The war-induced pessimism regarding Christianity, the Christian attitude toward war, the challenge of the present crisis to the church and the individual are recognized in all their enormous seriousness—yet the message of the book is one of stirring optimism.

Manhood of the Master. (c) † Thin paper, art leather, round cornered, pocket size. *.60

An "Everyday Life" Book.

This little volume will lead to a better understanding and deeper appreciation of the Master's character as an individual. The significant events of His life are considered, but only as they illuminate His personality. Arranged for individual use and for Bible study groups.

Meaning of Prayer. (c) † Thin paper, art leather, round cornered pocket size. *.60
Full morocco, gilt edges. *1.50

An "Everyday Life" Book.

This vitally helpful book throws much light on God's attitude toward us and our needs. In a vigorous, impressive way, with fine illustrative material, the author considers three phases of prayer: As communion with God; as petition for the things we need; and as the expression of dominant desire. The discussion of obstacles to effective prayer is also very enlightening.

Second Mile. Boards, *.40

Whosoever shall compel thee to go a mile, go with him twain, said Christ, and this book deals with the glories of this second mile. It is a book for the person determined to win, a book of inspiration to accept the extra duties, beyond those on the program.

FOSTER, ALLYN K.

Cartoons in Character. Cloth, *.50

Sharply drawn pen pictures of well-known human traits of character. The author does not mince words, and his descriptions of Willie Wilts, Kit Kalamity, Toby Tight and more than fifty others are very amusing, but they also incite the reader to take a personal inventory.

FOSTER, E. C.

After Decision—What? Pamphlet, .05
Per dozen, *.40

A word of fraternal greeting and wise counsel to the young man who has recently become Christ's follower, and who, on the threshold of his opportunities as a Christian, will find especial inspiration in this personal message and its suggestions for his guidance.

At the Forks of the Road. *.05
Per dozen, *.40

A brief, pointed, friendly word to boys who have reached the place where, consciously or unconsciously, they will make a decision regarding the Christian life. The author shows the attitude which, in fairness, one must take in considering the question, and makes the acceptance of Christ normal and essential in a way that appeals to a boy's heart.

Starting to Teach. (c) Cloth, *.40

A book for leaders of boys' Bible classes. Studies in first principles adapted for use in the early stages of teaching. The author is an authority on the conduct of boys' classes.

FOWLER, H. T.

Wisdom Literature of the Old Testament. (e) † Cloth, *.60; paper, *.40

This course of Old Testament studies is based upon Job, Proverbs and Ecclesiastes. It deals with the Hebrew attitude toward God in the light of their peculiar problems, and with the application of these teachings to our times.

GEIL, W. E.

Man of Galilee. Cloth, *.50; paper, *.25

A life of Christ in the very words of Scripture, modified by observations in the Holy Land.

GIBSON, H. W.

Bible Studies for Boys' Camps. .10
Per dozen, *.80

A supplement to Mr. Gibson's book on camping, planned "to help boys hear the 'sermons in stones' and become better acquainted with God the Creator and Jesus Christ the Saviour and Friend." Twelve lessons and a list of thirty-one suggestive Bible readings.

Boyology. (Boy Life Series.) Cloth, *1.00

A simple and comprehensive treatment of the subject of boy analysis and boy training. Written out of a long and varied experience for the practical guidance of parents, teachers, and workers with boys.

Camping for Boys. Canvas, 1.00

A complete authoritative handbook telling how to select a site, build fires, cook, insure proper sanitation, care for the sick, give first aid to the injured, check up a list of necessary articles, play rainy-day games, etc. Mr. Gibson has written out of a twenty-year experience and some of the chapters have been revised by other experts. Each chapter has a choice bibliography. Illustrations. Bound in canvas and pocket size. Used and recommended by the Boy Scouts.

Services of Worship for Boys.
Single copy, postpaid. *.45
Per hundred, plus carriage. *35.00

Services of music, responses and prayers suited to boys. The author has used similar services in boys' meetings, camps and conferences with remarkable results in dispelling restlessness, and making the work of the speaker effective. The services cover a good number of subjects, and music is provided for all the hymns. There are special sections for out-of-doors and round the camp fire.

GILBERT, PAUL.

Conductor Jim. Cloth, *.50

The story of Jim Burwick, told in his own words—the account of a wrecked life restored through the grace of God. Though the narrative is rich in laughter and tears, the meaning of it all, the power of God unto salvation, is never lost sight of. An inspiration for men who fear they are "down and out." Pictures of Burwick and his friends.

GLOVER, T. R.

Jesus of History. Cloth, *1.00

"Dr. Glover starts with a literary and human interest in the things said and the person who said them, and he soon gets to something too great for any theory to contain and far nearer to the heart's need. He takes the words of Jesus and sets himself before them, and asks: What do they say? How do they say it? What does the speaker mean?—questioning every word to know what Jesus thought, and, still more, felt about God, sin, nature, and man."—The Nation (London).

Harry Emerson Fosdick says: "I know of no other book in existence that puts the matter with such a combination of human interest, simplicity and scholarly reliability."

It is a book of genuine interest and help to the student of religion, to the minister of the gospel and to every Christian layman.

GOODMAN, F. S.

Another Story by Dr. Luke. (c) Arranged for correspondence study.
Lesson sets complete, *.15

Fifteen short readings to acquaint the student with the story of the founding of the Christian church as recorded in "the Acts of the Apostles."

Christian Testimony. (c) (Studies in Acts.) Paper, .15

The witness to Christ, as borne by the disciples in the early church, is the central fact of these elementary inductive studies.

Effective Bible Study. Cloth, *.25

A consideration of the seven principal agencies for religious training, and a description of tried and effective methods of stimulating intelligent, interested and habitual Bible study by men and boys. Organization, teacher qualifications and teacher training are briefly but clearly discussed. Contains an extensive and carefully selected bibliography.

Enlisted Man and His Bible. (c)
Paper, *.15

The peculiar needs of men in the army and navy have been kept in mind in preparing this course.

Life and Letters of Paul. (c) Cloth, *.40
Paper, *.25

Thirty studies in the life of Paul arranged chronologically, divided into four sections. May be used as two short courses or one long one. Provision is made for a limited study of the Pauline epistles. Daily readings related to the lessons are added. A chronology of Paul's life and a classification of his epistles are given.

Prayer, Principles and Examples. (d)
Cloth, .25; paper, .15

Twenty-five lessons on essential conditions, definiteness, perseverance, faith. Special studies in the prayer life of great characters in the Bible, notably Abraham, Moses, David, Christ, Paul. May be divided into two twelve-lesson courses.

Progressive Bible Studies. (c) Cloth, .25
Paper, .15

Nine introductory lessons on the Bible and its use, nine on fundamental truths as a preparation for service, and seven personal work studies based on Christ's life, with studies of practical personal problems.

GOODMAN—KNEBEL.

Story of Jesus by John. (c) Correspondence Bible Study. Twenty-two lessons with a copy of John's Gospel, .20
Additional copies of John, each, .03

Especially adapted to men who cannot meet regularly in classes. Each lesson occupies a separate leaflet with space after each question for a written answer.

A complete and effective handbook on the science and art of life saving, with sixty specially posed photographs.

GROVES, ERNEST R.

Moral Sanitation. Cloth, *.50

In this book some of the most recently developed principles of modern psychology are made available for the practical worker with men and boys. It is untechnical and preeminently practical, selecting out of the masses of material gathered by modern research such as will be found most useful in guiding the development of character. The book is, from first to last, constructive; it is an endeavor to indicate how moral collapse may be prevented.

Using the Resources of the Country Church. Cloth, *.75

A plea for greater conservation of the moral forces and opportunities to be found in the small community. It throws new light on the moral aspects of the family, recreation, physical and mental health and other elements in community life. It summons the country church to meet its supreme social opportunity—a call to rural statesmanship.

GULICK, LUTHER HALSEY.

Dynamic of Manhood. Cloth, *.75

An original treatment of the dominating force in a man's life—love, and its four chief channels of expression—towards friend, woman, children, and God. Beginning with a consideration from the scientific standpoint of the physical basis of love, as well as its significance for character, the author deals with the various hungers of the human heart in a way which inspires a more thoughtful and reverent use of a man's powers.

HALL, WINFIELD S., M.D.

Developing Into Manhood. (Sex Education Series.) Boards, *.25
Pamphlet edition, per hundred, carriage collect. *7.50

This book is designed to answer intelligently and authoritatively the questions which occur to every boy during the period of adolescence. Teachers will find it especially helpful in outlining a more extended and detailed course in eugenics.

From Youth Into Manhood. Cloth, *.50

Teachers, parents, friends and every adolescent boy need a copy of this book. Here are given facts a boy should know about his body and the interpretation of them. Simple rules are added that will enable a boy to care for himself during the critical periods. The sections on diet, exercise, etc., are of incalculable value. Commended by experts.

Life's Beginnings. (Sex Education Series.) Boards, *.25
Pamphlet edition, per hundred, carriage collect. *7.50

Brief but clear explanations that will enable boys from ten to fourteen years to strive intelligently for the wholesome manhood which is their rightful heritage.

HALLIDAY, W. FEARON.

Personality and War. Pamphlet, .10

Written with the purpose "to show that each person must have an absolute value in himself." It is a discussion of the interrelation between the individual, the church and the War.

HARLOW, S. R.

Life of H. Roswell Bates. Cloth, *1.00

The author of this short "Life" knew Roswell Bates from his early years, and presents a satisfying picture of the man as he really was; at work and play; laboring, spending himself for others, giving of his best to "Spring Street," on the lower west side of New York, and going to his rest long before he reached his prime, yet with a great life-work well and nobly done.

HARRIS, FREDERICK M.

Campaign of Friendship. Teacher's edition. *.15
Student's section, *.10; per dozen, *.80

This course comprises a series of ten lessons, grouping together passages bearing on some of the important ideas growing out of Jesus' direct appeal for followers. The teacher's edition contains helpful suggestions to leaders on each week's topic.

HARRIS—ROBBINS.

Challenge to Life Service. (d) † Art leather, *.60

Twelve studies in the campaign of the Kingdom of God, from the point of view of life service. The fourth volume in the College Voluntary Study Courses, designed for second semester sophomore groups.

HICKS, H. W.

Memorial of Horace William Rose. Cloth, *.65

A rarely successful student worker. Rose was bright, cheerful, and intense. The story of his brief but promising life is well told here.

HINCKLEY, G. W.

Roughing It with Boys. (Boy Life Series.) Cloth, *.75

Brimful of human interest, these episodes savor delightfully of real camp life where fun-loving nature finds wholesome outlet in purposeful energy and through the significance of commonplace incidents the words "comrade" and "leader" take on new meaning.

Story of Dan McDonald. Cloth, *.25
Paper, .05; per dozen, *.40

A bright, stimulating story of a real boy, a strong and manly fellow who strove for the highest things.

HOBART, ALVAH S.

Religion for Men. (M. & R. Series.) Cloth, *.60

"Not only does the author seek to make religion real to the hearts and lives of men, but he presents the subject in such a clear, concise and broadminded manner that it becomes attractive to them."—The Christian Work and Evangelist.

HODGE, G. B.

Association Educational Work. (For Men and Boys.) Cloth, *1.00; paper, *.75

Object, place, features, organization and conduct of supplementary education under auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association.

A working manual on the principles, methods and means of meeting the vocational, cultural and civic needs of men and boys. Among other topics it treats of class work in over 100 subjects; 80 or more varieties of clubs; a wide range of subjects and details for lectures and practical talks; libraries and reading-room facilities; advertising; fees; courses of study; equipment; finance and reports. Sections on day work, apprentice schools, teachers, extension work, thrift, supervision, etc. No Association committeeman or paid officer in any capacity can afford to be without this volume.

HOGG, A. G.

Christ's Message of the Kingdom. (d) † Cloth, *.80

A little book which penetrates to vital truth and in a most illuminating way interprets the great

HOGG, A. G. (continued).

New Testament conceptions, harmonizing them with the intellectual presuppositions of our own time.

As an incentive to Christian faith and Christian thought it is deserving of close attention.

HOLDEN, J. STUART.

Gospel of the Second Chance. (M. & R. SERIES.) Cloth, *.60 postpaid, .70

A message to those who, despite honest intent of heart, have somehow failed of the grace of God. It is the author's purpose to emphasize the renewal of opportunity which God offers as the expression of His great mercy—the confidence of a great love.

HOOKE, S. H.

Christ and the Kingdom of God. Cloth, *.60

This is a personal study of Jesus' life from the viewpoint of the great conflict between His ideals for the kingdom and the national hopes of His kingdom. Thus the study of the Gospel centers round the four great crises in Jesus' life—the temptation, the visit of John's disciples, the confession of Peter, and the crucifixion.

HOOKER, EDITH HOUGHTON.

Life's Clinic. Linen, *.25

A series of sketches written from between the lines of actual medical cases. A really powerful handling of a difficult subject resulting in the strongest kind of a plea for clean living.

Frank J. Osborne, The New York Social Hygiene Society, Inc., writes: "I feel that this is one of the most useful little booklets on this subject that has ever been published, and if its information could become a part of the knowledge of every young man, the venereal problem would have been hit the hardest blow possible."

HORNE, C. SILVESTER.

Life That Is Easy. (M. & R. SERIES.) Cloth, *.60

A vivid picture of human nature at its best. The word "easy" is not used as the lazy man uses it. The author presents Christianity as the only method of getting the highest result with no waste of effort or time. It is the easiest way to do hard things.

Relationships of Life. (M. & R. SERIES.) Cloth, *.60

This book deals with applications of the principles laid down in "The Life That is Easy." The Christian World says: "Mr. Horne is a close observer of men and manners and his words ring true to life; his counsel is practical and sensible and his appeals to idealism inspiring." Both books are highly commended as gifts for young men.

HORNE, H. H.

Leadership of Bible Study Groups. Cloth, *.50

"This volume is a real contribution to Bible study, not only in colleges, but wherever scholarly work is aimed at."—William D. Murray, Plainfield, N. J.

HORTON, R. F. and Others.

Youth and Life. (M. & R. SERIES.) Cloth, *.60

Twenty-seven chapters by a score of distinguished authors. The topics cover a pretty complete view of character development. One quotation will serve to give the keynote: "Manliness is a matter of culture rather than fate."

HOWARD, PHILIP E.

Life of Henry Clay Trumbull. (M. & R. SERIES.) Cloth, *.60; postpaid, .70

Dr. Trumbull's life was an inspiration, and this discriminating and intensely interesting biography of the author of "Individual Work for Individuals" should stir the reader to greater activity.

Many Sided David. (c) † Art leather, thin paper, round corners, pocket size. *.60

An "Everyday Life" Book.

A new and sympathetic interpretation of the character of David. It brings the real man vividly before the reader who studies him with increasing interest day by day. The treatment is vigorous and searching, and full of challenge to truly spiritual living, especially in the emphasis it puts on the place given to God in David's life. A helpful source for the key thoughts of sermons.

JACKSON, MELVIN.

Travels of Paul. (a) † Teacher's edition. Cloth, *.40
Paper, *.25

Student's lesson leaves, with maps for tracing journeys. Per set, *.10
Per dozen, *.80

SUGGESTIONS TO TEACHERS. Separate pamphlets for Series, A, B, & C; each *.10 Per dozen, *.80

CONVERSATION CARDS. For series B-General, B2-Anthracite and C-General, cards printed for practice in conversation, complete set packed in a neat box, per series *.60

BEGINNERS' READERS. Nos. 1 and 2, *.15 each; No. 3, *.20

An easily graded series of readers, with grammar exercises, leading the pupil naturally from the Preparatory Lesson Leaves to the advanced material.

ADVANCED COURSE. Heavy paper binding *.50

This is for men who talk, read and write English fairly well, but who need help in Naturalization requirements. It is arranged in line with and designed to follow the leaflet lessons. Forty readings in history, government and geography, each reading followed by a language lesson intended to teach the meaning and use of words and the construction of sentences. The course aims to give the pupil a good working knowledge of the English language.

ROBERTS, PETER (continued).

CARDS. Teacher's Report Cards, Absentee Reminder Cards, Teacher Pledge Cards, Registration Cards. 25 for .25; 50 for .40; 100 for .75

These cards are of great help in standardizing methods and increasing efficiency in teaching English to foreigners.

Immigrant Races in North America. *.50

A study of the home environment and historic background of the twelve chief nationalities from which our old-world guests are coming. The Slavic, which includes the largest variety of elements, is treated under thirteen heads. Nearly a score of unusual illustrations add concreteness to the text.

Songs for Coming Americans. Paper, Per hundred, *7.50

This is a collection of fifty-five familiar songs, with the tune printed over the words and written in a key to suit male voices. It is suggested that it be used to relieve classroom monotony, and to help the men to a greater command of English—also to get the men acquainted with American home songs.

ROBERTSON, JAMES W.

Conservation of Life in the Rural Districts. Boards, *.25

A brilliant interpretation of man's relation to the country environment by the chairman of Canada's Royal Commission on Industrial Training and Technical Education.

ROBINSON, C. C.

Christian Teaching on Social and Economic Questions. Cloth, *.50
Daily readings, .10; per dozen, *.80

This is a course of twenty studies prepared to meet an imperative need. The moral and ethical questions involved in earning and spending, in individual striving for success and in cooperative activity, are clearly pointed out to the older boys and young men struggling to find their place in modern business and industry.

Wage Earning Boy. Boards, *.25

Dealing with his status and imperative needs and the adaptation of Association machinery and spirit to meet these needs; organization, leadership, and suggested program of activities with suitable bibliography.

ROBINSON, G. L.

Abiding Value of the Old Testament. Boards, *.35

The best possible introduction to Old Testament Bible study. Clear statement of the reasons for retaining the Old Testament both as a necessary interpreter of the New and because of its intrinsic value.

Book of Isaiah. (d) † Cloth, *.50

The author is recognized as one of the most discerning and effective interpreters of Israel's commoner prophet. Fifteen studies.

Leaders of Israel. (c) † Cloth, *.50

A strong course of studies in the Old Testament. The character of Israel's leading men and the history of that people from Abraham to Christ are portrayed. There are twenty-five lessons, with many maps and charts of peculiar interest and value.

SALLMON, W. H.

Life of Paul. (d) Cloth, 40; paper, .25

The character of Paul, in his varied experiences as student, hero, author, prisoner, etc., is dealt with in twenty-four lessons. An outline of Galatians and a chronology of Paul's life are included in the book.

Miracles of Jesus. (d) Cloth, .30 Paper, .20

Twenty topical studies based on Matthew but with references to the other gospels. Attempt is made in the study to find the motive and lessons of each miracle.

Parables of Jesus. (d) Cloth, .25 Paper, .15

Fifteen studies based on Matthew. The parables are viewed with reference both to Christ's divine character and teachings and their practical application.

SAYFORD, S. M.

Personal Work. Cloth, .75

Method and practice in work for individuals are presented by an experienced worker.

SCHENCK, F. S.

Christian Evidences and Ethics. (d) *.75

Prepared while the author was acting professor of Ethics and Evidences in Rutgers College to meet the needs of the students. The book is suitable not only for use in college classes but also for personal study.

SEE, E. F.

Teaching of Bible Classes. (d) Revised and enlarged by WILLIAM D. MURRAY. Cloth, *.75

Meant for the Bible teacher intent on training himself to make the most of his privilege, but without time to take an extensive course. In simple language, made interesting by illustrative material, it gives the main principles and practical methods of teaching the Bible. Each lesson is followed by quotations from the best books on the subject.

SHARMAN, H. B.

Records of the Life of Jesus. Cloth, *2.50

Produced in the language and in the order of the original records. By a unique arrangement all of the advantages of the old Harmonies are retained without any of their disadvantages.

The consecutive story of each gospel is told but the arrangement allows for comparison of the same page of matter appearing in two or more gospels. It has been the plan to show on each page all related material from all parts of the records—either by direct parallelism or by attached references. On any page one may find the account of every occurrence within the records of those events or sayings that appear on that page.

Studies in the Life of Christ. (d) † Cloth, *1.25; paper, *.75
Studies, cloth, .75; Harmony, cloth, 1.00
Paper books not sold separately.
(No discounts on sets.)

This course has thirty studies of a historical and devotional character, and is based upon the Harmony of the Gospels by Stevens and Burton. The studies are chronological and there is opportunity for comparing the accounts found in the four gospels.

SMITH, FRED B.

Man's Religion. Cloth, *.50

A book of exceptional qualities, giving the impressions of a quarter of a century in the service of the Young Men's Christian Association. "Fred B. Smith was the dynamic leader of the Men and Religion Movement. It is a great book for the modern man—a book to nerve the man who has religion and put a mighty challenge before the man who has not religion."—The Continent.

Men Wanted. Cloth, *.50

The author, well known as "The greatest living Evangelist to Men," for years refused urgent calls from publishers and the public for a book. He at last yielded and has written a message in his own vigorous style. After a trip through the cheap lodging houses of the Bowery, Mr. Smith came to this conclusion, "There are too many men in the world." Later he decided that there are not enough of the right kind. His book shows how to get out of the "Too Many" class into the "Not Enough" class. It is preeminently a men's book.

SMITH, H. L.

Christian Race. (b) Teacher's edition. Cloth, *.75; student's pad, *.20

A unique course of twenty-four lessons on the Life of Christ, supplemented by twenty-four biographical sketches of men who have "won out," and an equal number of studies of the elements of character that make up the "Christian athlete." The student's pad is incomplete without the larger book, which should be in the hands of the teacher.

SPEER, ROBERT E.

How to Deal with Temptation. Boards, *.25. Paper, .10; per dozen, *.80

Temptation may be a source of either strength or weakness. This stimulating little book helps one to make his temptations a source of strength.

Marks of a Man. (M. & R. SERIES.) Cloth, *.60; postpaid, *.70

"Deals with Truth, Purity, Service, Freedom, and Progress. No one is doing more than Mr. Speer to mold the young men of today into noble patterns. This volume is in his best vein."—Interior.

Principles of Jesus. (M. & R. SERIES.) Cloth, *.60; postpaid, *.70

Mr. Speer prefers to treat of the practical questions of today rather than of those raised in the sphere of speculative thought. It is this practical Christo-centricism that is destined to carry the Gospel into the heart of the modern social world, as well as into the individual life.

Things That Make a Man. *.05 Per dozen, *.40

Every true-hearted young man wants to build up in himself a noble and worthy manhood. This little book points out the way that leads to such attainments.

SWEET, LOUIS MATTHEWS.

Study of the English Bible. Cloth, *1.00

Constructive suggestions for acquiring biblical knowledge by studying the Bible itself, rather than books about the Bible. The author goes below all artificial and merely formal processes to a vital way of dealing with word, topic or book. The appendix gives outline studies and much other valuable matter. A book that gives a new vision of the pleasure and profit of Bible study.

THOMAS, W. H. GRIFFITH.

Methods of Bible Study. (M. & R. Series.) Cloth, *.60

A very direct treatment of the Bible itself as distinct from the mass of discussion about the Bible. It deals with the actual contents of the various groups of books, thus forming an introduction to the Bible as a whole that will make clearer a study of its parts.

THOMPSON, VANCE.

Drink and Be Sober. Cloth, *1.00

"It is as gripping as a play and as correct as a scientific treatise. The argument is searching, thorough and unanswerable, and is impressive because it is fair."—Ex-Governor Foss, of Massachusetts.

TOWNS, CHARLES B.

Injury of Tobacco. Per hundred, 1.50
Per thousand, 12.00

An impartial presentation of the harmful and far-reaching effects of the use of tobacco.

Some Modern Facts About Alcoholic Drinks. Per hundred, 1.50
Per thousand, 12.00

Practical consideration of alcoholism from a personal, business and social standpoint.

TRAWICK, A. M.

City Church and Its Social Mission. Cloth, *.60

Well-directed suggestions tending to awaken in the city church a larger conscience and more effective recognition of its opportunity in the leadership of Social Service.

More importance is attached to the discovery of real conditions than to a review of general principles. The author urges each church to make a special study of its own equipment in relation to its environment.

TRUMBULL, C. G.

Men Who Dared. (a) †
Teacher's edition, cloth, *.40; paper, *.25
Student's edition, *.10
A set of sixteen half-tone pictures to illustrate the lessons, per set, *.10
Student's edition and pictures, each, per dozen, *.80

Eighteen lessons in Old Testament character study. Teachers will find this an excellent elementary course.

Taking Men Alive. (c) Cloth, *.50

"Individual Work for Individuals," by Dr. H. C. Trumbull, is a narrative of striking experiences. "Taking Men Alive," by his son, discloses the principles underlying such work. For the individual student or the group. Unconventional, wholesome, and greatly needed.

TRUMBULL, H. C.

How to Deal with Doubts and Doubters. Cloth, *.65
Hungarian Edition. Translated by Frank Kovacs. Paper, *.25
Cloth, *.35

An excellent volume to place in the hands of one troubled by religious doubts; a splendid book to strengthen one's faith.

TRUMBULL, H. C. (continued).

Individual Work for Individuals. (M. & R. Series.) Cloth, *.60; paper, *.25

The personal experiences of one of the best-known workers of modern times, and his convictions, make this one of the most important books ever published on this subject.

WAITE, R. A., JR.

Gospel in Athletic Phrases. (c) Cloth, *.40

Twenty-five studies applying athletic terms to spiritual life and experience.

WARBURTON, G. A.

Memorial of George A. Hall. Cloth, *.75

Mr. Hall's early life, his work in the Christian Commission, his secretaryship at Washington, his tours in the South, and his long term as state secretary of the Y. M. C. A. for New York are all dealt with in this book.

Life of Edwin F. See. Cloth, illustrated, *.75

Mr. See's boyhood days in Tarrytown, college and seminary life, Albany pastorate, twenty years in the Brooklyn secretaryship, wide outside activities, Mr. See as a man. Also an appendix with full account of the memorial service.

WARD, CHARLES S.

Intensive Financial Campaign. .15 each, per dozen, *1.50

A clear presentation of methods, based on long and successful experience, which is bound to be valuable to Associations planning for a financial campaign.

WARD, HARRY F.

Poverty and Wealth. Art leather, round cornered, pocket-size. *.50

Timely, practical, and enlightening studies on the relation of the Church to the great evils resulting from the extremes of wealth and poverty found side by side in modern society. These studies compel thought and interest and show the responsibility and opportunity of the individual Christian.

WARD—EDWARDS.

Christianizing Community Life. (d) †
Art leather, round cornered, pocket size. *.60

This book aims to help the man who has accepted Jesus' social principles make them operative in the life of his community. Professor Henry T. Ward of Boston University and Secretary of the Social Commission of the Federal Council of Churches and Mr. R. H. Edwards, Social Service Secretary of the Student Young Men's Christian Association are the joint authors. Prepared from the viewpoint of the ordinary rather than the college community and therefore usable in all adult classes. Fourth Year, Part II, College Voluntary Study Courses.

WARNER, LUCIEN CALVIN.

Personal Memoirs of Lucien Calvin Warner. Cloth, *1.00

Dr. Warner has for many years stood for the highest type of consecrated layman. His reminis-cences are full of human interest, tracing the course of a long and useful life through many and varied experiences. Dr. Warner served for a long period as Chairman of the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, and his references to the beginnings and development of the movement will be of special interest to all Christian workers.

WEATHERFORD, W. D.

Christian Life—A Normal Experience. Cloth, *.60

Shows clearly how Christian experience grows and may become real in any life. It lays a new foundation of reason and fact for our Christian faith, and puts it squarely up to the individual to increase his faith by personal effort. The material is arranged in a series of studies, one for every day in the week of a three months' course, prefaced by an excerpt from the Bible.

Introducing Men to Christ. † Cloth, *.50

This volume attempts to make clear the steps which men take in entering the Christian life; the results in one's life of becoming a Christian; the message of Christianity as compared with other religions; the foundation stones upon which the Christian faith rests; how this message of the Christian life may be passed on to one's friends; the fundamental question of the Christian life.

Negro Life in the South. Cloth, *.50

A well-arranged collection of concrete facts, by an open-minded Southerner who knows the Negro and who knows also what the Negro's white friends need to understand in order to help him. "A distinct addition to the swiftly gathering forces now crystallizing the sentiment of the South into an organized demand for the industrial education of the Negro."—Southern Workman.

Personal Elements in Religious Life. Cloth, *1.00

The basic theme of this book is that "to be a Christian is to be rightly related to all persons, God and men." From this definition the author builds his defense of Christian truth and his interpretation and exposition of the fundamental elements of Christian faith. Those who are charged with the religious leadership of thoughtful men and women have a distinct need for this book. "One of the truly great books of the present day."—Christian Advocate.

Present Forces in Negro Progress. Cloth, *.50

A fair-minded statement of conditions as they are. Intended to meet the supreme need of the hour for facts rather than theories. Supplemented by an excellent bibliography and index.

WEAVER, E. W.

Profitable Vocations for Boys. Cloth, *1.00

A valuable summary of the best information as to the conditions under which boys and young men may secure a foothold in the more profitable occupations; also practical suggestions as to how workers may advance themselves. A book that stands alone in its field.

WILDER, R. P.

How to Use the Morning Quiet Time. Pamphlet, .10; dozen, .80; 100, 5.00 plus carriage.

"By this is meant the time set apart each morning for communion with God, to realize His presence, know His will and receive His power." This little pamphlet discusses the advantages of the morning time and offers many helpful suggestions for the best way to spend it.

WILLIAMS, J. E. H.

Life of Sir George Williams. (M. & R. Series.) Cloth, *.60; postpaid, .70

No Association secretary or member can afford to overlook such a book as this life of the founder of the Young Men's Christian Association. There is inspiration, argument and method in this story, which answers the old question—Can a successful modern business man be a Christian? He could. He was. Specially helpful as a guide in doing personal work.

WILLMAN, L. K.

Men of the Old Testament. (c) † Cloth, *.50; postpaid, .60

Eighteen studies adapted for students in preparatory and high schools and other Bible classes. The lessons furnish an excellent introduction to, and historical outline of, the Old Testament by a study of some of its most prominent men.

WILSON, WOODROW.

Minister and the Community. Decorated boards. *.25

A clear note from one of the most highly honored laymen in our land, regarding the ideals of the church in respect to the position and opportunities of its ministry.

Points out the most effective way to make the ministry an ever increasing influence for enduring good among the people.

WOOD, H. G.

Personal Economy and Social Reform. Cloth, *.50

WOOD, W. M.

Round Table Discussions on Life Problems. (d) Paper, .15

These discussions are for those of more experience in considering the large things of Christianity, and include the claims of Christianity and questions of personal progress.

WOODS, E. S.

Modern Discipleship and What It Means. Cloth, *.75

The author's purpose is to indicate something of the meaning and inexhaustible significance of the Christian life; its amazing richness; the width of its outlook; its close relation to common life; the grandeur of its goal and the strength of its appeal to all the powers of body and mind which man possesses.

WRIGHT, H. B.

Will of God. (e) † Cloth, .60

The fundamental problem of the Christian life—self-surrender to the will of God—as stated and interpreted by Christ and the apostles. The studies fall under these four main heads: the Will of God and Self-surrender; the Decision to Do God's Will; the Finding Out of God's Will; the Issues of Facing the Problem of Doing God's Will. Twenty-five lessons.

Första Läseboken för Skolan och Hemmet av Hulda Magnusson, A. B. Vocabulary Edition. Boards ..... .30

Andra Läseboken för Skolan och hemmet av Hulda Magnusson, A. B. Vocabulary Edition. Boards ..... .50

Teachers in our Swedish schools have found that many children of Swedish parentage are so little acquainted with the Swedish language that they do not know the meaning of many of the words used in the beginners' books. As a help for such children, vocabularies have been added to the Primer series, Första Läseboken and Andra Läseboken. The vocabulary in each book includes every Swedish word in every form in which it occurs in the Reader, with the meaning appropriate to the passage in which it is used. — It is hoped that with this assistance the average child of Swedish parentage will be encouraged to learn to read and to understand the language of his fathers.

To be a story-teller is something more than an art, it requires genius, or an inborn intellectual power. But in order to tell stories for children — stories not aiming merely at amusing, but at training the child's mind and heart — to tell such stories a person needs something more besides genius, he needs a simple, artless and guileless spirit. This faculty is a rare gift, but Topelius possessed it in an eminent degree, and we are glad to have his stories translated into English and thus made accessible to a larger circle of readers than they could count upon in their original tongue. Only a person who possesses the qualification of a good story-teller will make a good translator of such stories, and Dr. Foss has proved himself qualified for this work.

Each volume is complete in itself, but an opportunity to complete the whole series is here offered, and those who appreciate this kind of literature, should not fail to avail themselves of the opportunity.

VICKNER, EDW. J., PH. D.

A Brief Swedish Grammar. Cloth, net 1.00

Omitting technical details, the merits of Prof. Vickner's new English textbook of the Swedish language may be briefly stated as follows:

A clear and concise presentation of the facts, rules and idioms of the language.

A system of lessons furnishing working material to the student from the start, and dealing with the parts of speech in the order best suited to this purpose.

Exercises plentiful and less rudimentary than in most beginners' books, connected discourse being given preference to detached sentences.

Vocabularies of every day speech voluminous and detailed, with colloquial and idiomatic phrases added.

Lends itself to the conversational method of instruction.

Facilitates acquisition of common phrases and idioms rather than a stock of mere words.

Extra space accorded the treatment of parts of speech offering more than ordinary difficulties, such as the prepositions; while, on the other hand, pronunciation and accent are briefly treated, in view of the fact that the phonetics of the language had best be taught orally, and can be mastered only by constant practice with a teacher.

POET LORE

POET LORE is the oldest and largest review in the English language devoted to poetry and drama. In its pages appear the best work of the world's greatest writers, and for twenty-five years it has been an active pioneer in promoting an interest in international letters. Maeterlinck, Hauptmann, Sudermann, Schnitzler, D'Annunzio, Gorki, Andreyev, Bjornson and Synge are among those POET LORE has introduced to the American public.

"Those who love the best in poetry and drama will find in POET LORE a literary feast." — The Pittsburg Post.

"It is a most excellent indication of the genuine love of high literature that the editors have been able to bring together so many distinct contributions of a suggestive and critical character. There is a freshness about the work which is inspiriting, and the study is of that which is worth while, not the tiresome praise of the second rate." — Atlantic Monthly.

"A periodical that stands steadfastly for good literature, and for the value of poetry in all walks of life." — The Dial.

THE JOURNAL OF ABNORMAL PSYCHOLOGY

THE JOURNAL OF ABNORMAL PSYCHOLOGY stands as the representative of the scientific study of the abnormal phases of mind. It publishes the researches and practical conclusions of the most eminent representatives in this branch of study. To those who desire more than a vague general and more or less unreliable account of the present position and attainments of abnormal or medical psychology THE JOURNAL OF ABNORMAL PSYCHOLOGY is the only source available. As official organ of the American Psychopathological Association and the British Psycho-Medical Society, its standing and authority are assured.

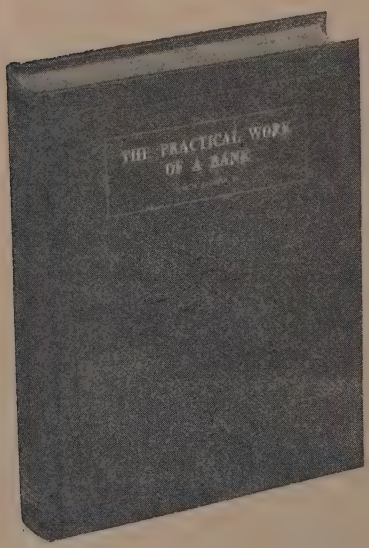
The Practical Work of a Bank

By
Wm. H.
Kniffin, Jr.

Author of
"The Savings Bank and its Practical Work"

Second Edition
Over 600 pages
Illustrated

Price $5.00 delivered



IN the 600 pages of this book Mr. Kniffin covers every phase and detail of the operation of a modern bank. There is not a detail from the handling of the morning's mail to the extension of credit, from the duties of the messenger to the functions of the president, that he does not consider carefully and describe in an interesting way.

Mr. Kniffin has had a banking experience extending over twenty-five years, and is an acknowledged expert. But he has not depended upon his own knowledge and experience. He has, in addition, gone to leading bankers throughout the country adding their experience and their methods to his own. "The Practical Work of a Bank" is something more than a book. It is an encyclopædia, a complete text book for the student of banking.

A valuable feature of this book is the large number of charts and forms which are reproduced. These are the actual forms which are used by some of the leading banking institutions in their various departments and a careful study of them will give the reader many valuable ideas and suggestions.

Bank equipment is discussed in detail. The author goes into the subject of the best arrangement of the banking room, the location of the cages, the best place for the officers' quarters. He discusses filing, the various books used in the bookkeeping department, the statement system, employees' pensions, days off, stationery and supplies, and the best methods of handling the mail.

Particular attention has been given to the subject of bank credit, one hundred and fifty pages being devoted to that subject. On this subject the author writes with exceptional information and force. He holds the prize offered in 1911 by the late James G. Cannon to the men of the New York Chapter of the American Institute of Banking for the best essay on this important topic.

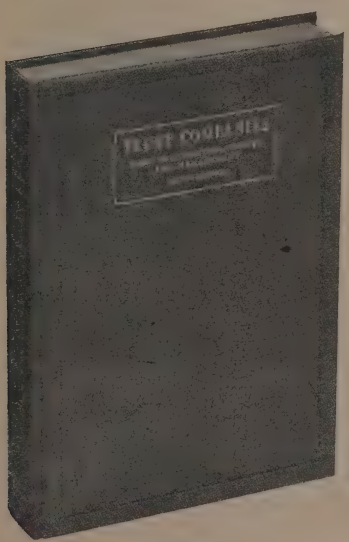
Trust Companies

Their Organization Growth and Management

By
Clay Herrick

Second Edition
Revised and enlarged
500 pages

Price $4.00 delivered



THE subject of the practical organization and every day administration of a modern Trust Company has been thoroughly covered in this book.

The author is Clay Herrick, formerly of the Cleveland Trust Co., a man who has had many years' practical experience in trust company work. The book has just been completely revised and brought up-to-date in every particular.

The new edition of "Trust Companies" is unquestionably the last word on this important subject. The management and operation of every department of a modern trust company is described in detail—not in a vague and theoretical manner, but from a practical, every-day point of view. The author takes the reader through every branch and department, giving helpful information and knowledge that years of experience alone could give.

Mr. Herrick has gone to trust companies and trust company officers throughout the country and received the benefit of their knowledge and their experience in their own particular specialty.

He has studied how different banks conduct their trust departments and how trust institutions carry on their every day work. He has collected hundreds of forms and blanks used by various companies. From these he has selected the best and they are reproduced in the pages of this book.

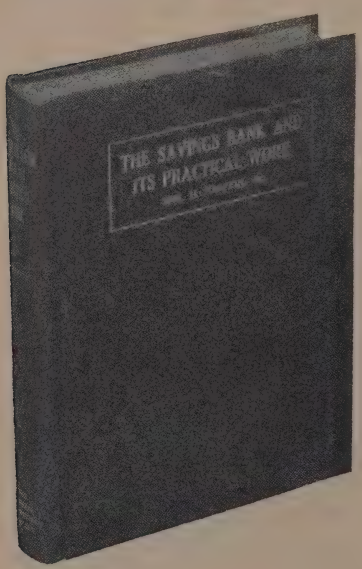
The book takes up such subjects as the following: The functions of trust companies; the organization of trust companies; organization of the working force; forms and records for the trust department; the safe deposit department; the banking department; the savings department; the real estate department; the title insurance department; methods of increasing business; examinations and audits; duties and liabilities of trust companies and many others.

The Savings Bank and Its Practical Work

By Wm. H. Kniffin, Jr.

550 pages
Illustrated

Price $5.00 postpaid



THIS 550-page book is a complete and practical treatise on savings banking, covering the history, organization, management and methods of operation of both mutual and stock savings banks. It is also adapted to the requirements of savings departments in banks of discount and trust companies.

The work of a typical savings institution is minutely gone into, commencing with its organization, internal management and working of every department, including bond amortization, audits, banking through the mail, advertising, etc.

There has long been a dearth of practical literature on the savings bank and its work. The present volume is the only one which so thoroughly covers the field.

It takes up such topics as the following: The savings bank movement; nature and functions of savings banks; the thrift habit; the savings bank as a public benefactor; the savings bank as an institution; savings banks in the United States; organization of a savings bank; management of a savings bank; the by-laws; the first deposit; the bank and its depositors; deposits; withdrawals; deposits by check; general orders and identification; alteration of pass books and transfer of accounts; the teller and his cash; the passing of the deposit ledger; posting and proving; the dividend—its declaration and computation; mortgage loans and realty values; bond amortization; savings bank audits; banking through the mails; accounts of deceased persons; lost pass books; advertising the savings bank; dormant accounts; society accounts; school savings banks; insurance on mortgaged premises; finger print identification; home banks; interest on mortgage loans; insolvency in the savings bank.

The Elements of Foreign Exchange

By
Franklin Escher

A Foreign Exchange Primer

Price $1.35 postpaid

FOREIGN exchange is the key to the financial situation. To understand foreign exchange is to be able to form a clear idea of what is going on. "The Elements of Foreign Exchange" is the simple explanation of exchange and the exchange market you have long been looking for. It is a practical treatment of the subject for the banker, the business man and the student.

Mr. Escher is one of the best known writers on financial subjects, combining a thorough, practical training in foreign exchange with long experience in lecturing on the subject at New York University. He has written his book so as to make it of great value both to the practical business man and the student.

Why exchange rises and falls as it does, what can be read from its movements and how merchants and bankers take advantage of them, the effect that these movements exert on the other markets—these and like questions are taken up in the first part of the book. The second part describes intimately the practical operation of exchange and the exchange markets, and contains special chapters on arbitrage, international trading in securities, the financing of exports and imports, gold shipments, and other important phases of the subject.

The fact that this book has been adopted as a text by the leading colleges and universities and that it is being used by students of banking everywhere is conclusive testimony to its value.

Practical Investing

By Franklin Escher

Author of
"The Elements of Foreign Exchange"

Price $1.60 delivered

IN the choice of an investment, as in the choice of a house or a suit of clothes or an automobile, or anything else, the primary consideration is suitability. A six-cylinder touring car that can make a hundred miles an hour and climb up the side of a house is all very well, but far less suited to the needs, for instance, of a country doctor than is a little runabout costing perhaps one-fifth as much. Just so, in investment, different securities suit different requirements—what for one man would be an ideal investment might be totally unsuited to another's needs. What are my particular requirements?—that, in the investment of money, is the first thing to be considered. Only after it has been considered can intelligent selection be made.

That's what Mr. Escher says in his opening chapter and in the rest of the book he goes on to show how to make that "intelligent selection" which is so vital in making an investment.

The book is written for the man who has or who may have money to invest, and who wants to learn how to invest it to the best possible advantage. While necessarily including a certain amount of discussion of abstract investment principles, the book is, in the main, a practical discussion of securities. To describe stocks and bonds as they are—as the man who goes into the market to invest money will find them—that, rather than theoretical discussion of the science of investment has been the author's aim.

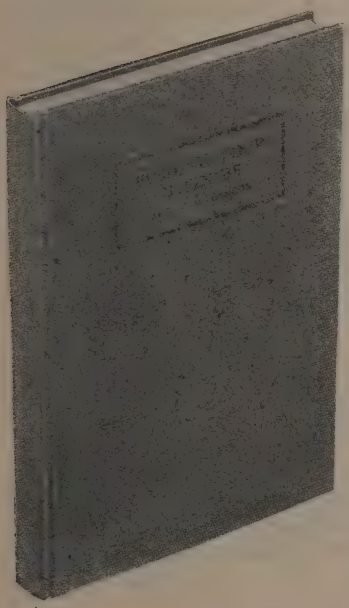
As the Boston Transcript says: "It is a valuable contribution to a class of literature now in growing demand among those who care to invest, in the true sense of the word."

Pushing Your Business

By
T. D. MacGregor

200 pages
Illustrated

Price $1.50 postpaid



THIS is a text-book of the fundamental principles of bank, trust company and real estate advertising, and is regarded as a standard work on financial advertising. In the 200 and more pages of this book Mr. MacGregor not only takes up the fundamental theories of advertising, but also shows exactly how banks, trust companies and other financial institutions have increased business by successful advertising. Advertisements of all sorts are reproduced and carefully analyzed, showing why they are good or bad.

In his chapter on "the technical foundation," Mr. MacGregor discusses such subjects as: space; display; illustration; headlines; condensation; value of trade-mark; strength of simplicity; harmony in style; the type layout; proofreader's symbols; the importance of copy; the "outside" attitude; the personal element; originality. This chapter also contains a complete glossary of advertising and printing terms.

There is also a chapter on advertising mediums discussing the value of the various mediums and pointing out the ones best adapted for financial advertising.

Booklets and house organs is the subject of another chapter which tells how to prepare literature of this nature. Takes up such subjects as: choosing the title; exciting interest and holding attention; making the message personal; the use of the imperative; value of the coupon; "do it now"; getting cash-with-order replies; specially interested readers; good typography essential; simple words; enthusiasm.

The fund of helpful information and practical suggestions contained in this book make it indispensable to all who are interested in speeding up business by the dynamic force of advertising.

Bank Letters

By
W.R. Morehouse

A Series of 82 Business Building Letters

Reproduced in Letter Form

Price $5.00 delivered

HOW many times have you dictated a business building letter, and when the typewritten copy was placed on your desk, found it didn't suit you? You felt that it wouldn't produce results unless it was built along different lines. How many times have you worried yourself into a headache trying to compose just the right letter to meet the situation? "Bank Letters" will solve this problem for you. It contains eighty-two business building letters—the fruits of the experience of Mr. W. R. Morehouse, assistant cashier and publicity manager of the Guaranty Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles, California.

Mr. Morehouse noticed that many letters had to be written over and over again when the same situation came up in regard to different people. "What is the use," he thought, "of wasting time and effort trying over and over again to write the same letter and failing every time?"

"Why not work out the best possible letter to cover the situation—boil it down until every superfluous word has been removed—make it the perfect expression of what that letter is to say—and then send the same letter whenever that particular situation arises?"

And Mr. Morehouse did this very thing. Aided by his own many years' experience and the experience of other men prominent in the banking world, he has written a series of eighty-two bank letters.

These letters give urgent compelling reasons which bring in new customers and make old customers increase their deposits. They express tactfully yet forcefully the exact truth about a customer when credit information has been asked by another institution. They put into the best possible phrasing every possible expression which is needed in banking work.

2000 Points for Financial Advertising

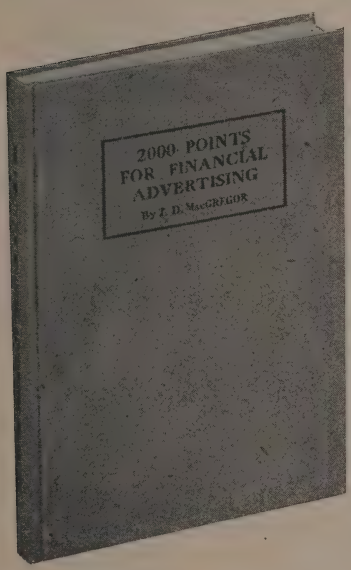
By

T. D. MacGregor

Author of
"Pushing Your Business"

170 pages

Price $1.75 postpaid



ADVERTISING is something more than filling space in a high-priced medium. Once you have contracted for space in any publication you have acquired a piece of property something like an untilled tract of land. At present it is barren and unfertile, but it is rich in possibilities and only awaits the careful industry of the ploughman to yield a rich harvest.

Too often, however, the financial advertiser buys this tract of land and then through lack of time or through lack of expert knowledge he lets it go to seed or, at most, raises a crop of hay when he might have raised wheat.

That's just why such a book as "2,000 Points for Financial Advertising" was found necessary. There were a lot of bankers in the country who knew their business from A to Z, but they never had the time to study advertising from a technical standpoint. They realized the value of advertising. They wanted to advertise. They were willing to pay for advertising, but they didn't know how to go about it. What they wanted was to be shown how.

The author of this book had been studying bank advertising for years. That was his business. He knew bank advertising as a banker knows banking. He had written hundreds of bank advertisements for bankers all over the country—ads that pulled, that brought new business for the bank and that made people sit up and take notice.

And in order that you may have the benefit of this expert knowledge he has put the tested result of his experience into book form.

"2000 Points for Financial Advertising" writes your advertising copy for you. It contains copy for 2,000 different ads for savings banks, commercial banks and trust companies. It is good strong copy, much of which has been tested by actual use and found to be effective. It has brought actual results.

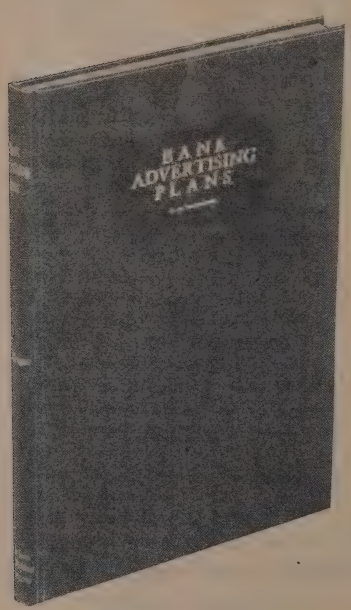
Bank Advertising Plans

By
T. D. MacGregor

Author of
"Pushing Your Business"

200 pages

Price $2.50 postpaid



THIS book is a golden treasury of advertising ideas for banks. It is not the summary of any one man's ideas or experience. It is a composite of the successful plans and efforts of a great many keen bankers and bank advertising men.

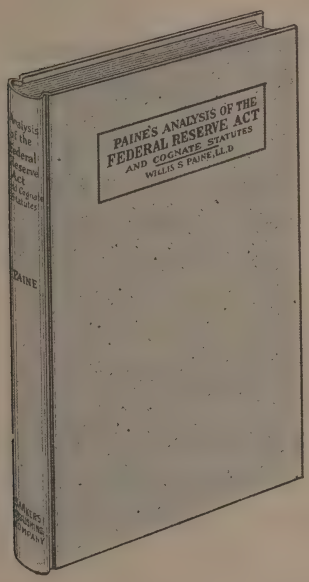
In reading "Bank Advertising Plans" and making use of the hundreds of ideas contained therein, you are simply taking wise advantage of the experience of many others. You are supplementing your own knowledge and experience along this line with that of scores and hundreds of other men under widely different conditions.

It takes up such topics as the following: Bank "House Organs"; floats in parades; an ownership map; time-table advertising; accessibility of officers; sample checks; lobby signs; outdoor signs; a time book; reproducing newspaper ads.; a cook book; introduction cards; tactful employees; newspapers free to newcomers; free safe deposit service; perforated booklet cover; envelope enclosures; Lincoln's birthday; Jewish prayer book; helping settlers; self-addressed envelopes; bank draft leaflets; Sunday school prizes; statement folders; membership in bankers' associations; aeroplanes; post office data; reply postcards; collection on land contracts; aiding the Red Cross; birch bark statements; an atlas of the world; a bank drummer; rewards for saving; an 8-page advertisement; an intensive campaign; a combination circular; weather advertising; new babies; a bank club; ladies' rest room; public conveniences; tax information; a flower booklet; news and advertising; community boosting; appealing to nationality; street car campaigns; savings clubs; the bank building; pay envelope advertising; Christmas and New Year; calendars; the "bank historical"; the contest idea; parents and children; specialty advertising; 70 bank advertising letters; 216 bank emblems or trade-marks.

Paine's Analysis of the Federal Reserve Act and Cognate Statutes

By Hon. Willis S. Paine, LL. D.

Price $5.00 postpaid



IN this book the distinguished author of "Paine's Banking Laws" and "Paine's New York Banking Laws," completely analyzes the Federal Reserve Act and records the various rulings and interpretations which have affected it since its enactment. The book is an authoritative treatise on the history, development and operation of this exceptionally important statute.

The Federal Farm Loan Act, the Kern amendment of the Anti-Trust Law (Clayton Act) and the Bills of Lading Act, all of which have at least an indirect relation to banking, are included in the scope of the author's investigations.

There has been a great need for a book of this kind. A study of the text of the Federal Reserve Act gives only a skeleton idea of the way in which the law will operate. Without a study of the various rulings and interpretations of the law, without an examination of the actual organization of the system under the law—a real knowledge of this act cannot be obtained.

Dr. Paine has adopted the chronological method of treatment in handling his subject, tracing step by step from the time the law was enacted to the present just what has been done to carry out its provisions. He gives a clear analysis of the law itself, of its several amendments, and of the rules and regulations of the Federal Reserve Board. Comparison with the National Banking Act and other related statutes is made, so that one gets an understanding of what former laws were amended or superseded and what the banking law now is. Especially valuable are the comparisons with the banking laws of the various states.

By using the copious index in the back of this book the reader can find at a moment's notice just how any particular phase of banking is affected by this fundamental law.

The Banker in Literature

By
Johnson Brigham

250 pages
17 plates

Price $2.15 delivered

Illustrated with portraits of bankers famous in literature

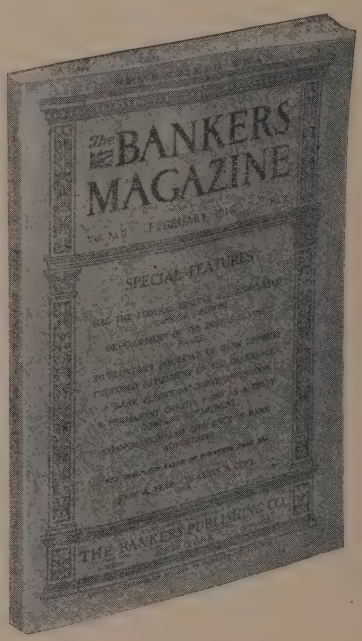
TO every banker interested in the romantic and picturesque aspects of his profession this book has a strong appeal. Mr. Johnson Brigham, the author, in a series of delightful sketches shows how the banker has been portrayed in the literature and fiction of the past two centuries; how he has been regarded by his contemporaries and what impression he has made upon his day and generation. Its purpose—so far as it has had a purpose beyond mere entertainment and the widening of the readers' range of observation—is to show how the banker as a personality has affected the imaginations and literature of past generations.

It is interesting to note how the popular conception of the banker has been changed and modified during recent years. The qualities of coldness, excessive dignity and irreproachability which the novelists and writers of the past have seen fit to assign to their banking characters are gradually disappearing from the literature of to-day.

"The banker of the near future," the author predicts, "will be painted by the novelist not in mephistophelian red, nor in depressing drab. He will be recognizably human—very human. . . . . He will be pictured diligent in business. . . . . He will be presented as a firm believer in and rigid enforcer of twentieth century system, but courteous with his associates and employees; firm but kind—not indulgent—in all his business relations with the public. . . . . When the great novelist of the future shall come, equipped with experience and sympathy, and with that marvelous second-sight which in a Shakespeare, or in a Balzac at his best, we call genius, then we, or the readers who come after us, shall surely find in literature, as in life, a banker large enough to fill out in detail the high ideal of whom the high-grade banker of to-day is the sure promise."

Take a Trip with The Bankers Magazine

DON'T you think it would be a helpful and a valuable thing if you could start off to-day on a grand tour of the United States, visiting hundreds of banking institutions in all parts of the country? Don't you think it would be valuable and inspiring if you could talk with hundreds of bankers and discuss with them problems which you are confronting every day? Don't you think that the new viewpoint and the fresh outlook that a trip of this kind would be fully worth your while?



This is just the service THE BANKERS MAGAZINE is seeking to give its readers. Being National in its scope, it reviews each month the best banking thought of the country. It keeps you in touch with your contemporaries in every state of the Union. It tells you what banks and bankers are doing everywhere and how they are meeting the same problems and complexities which you are running up against every day.

The Editorial Comment of THE BANKERS MAGAZINE has come to be regarded as authoritative among the bankers of the country. Each month the readers of the Magazine look for its comment on those matters of current interest in which all bankers are vitally concerned. In these pages the reader gets the benefit of the calm and well-matured judgment of a constant and studious observer of banking affairs.

One of the features of the Magazine which is of special value to our subscribers is the Publicity Department. This department describes the campaigns which other banks have successfully conducted and brings forward each month new and valuable plans for financial publicity.

THE BANKERS MAGAZINE records the experiences of practical bankers—men like yourself. It gives an opportunity for the man who has learned a new method to pass on this information for the good of his fellow-bankers. It's the same spirit of coöperation that is becoming evident in every business and industry to-day.

A subscription to THE BANKERS MAGAZINE is not an expense—it is a gilt-edged investment. In one issue alone there may be some new method, some new way of doing business, that will save your bank hundreds of dollars. And then, it's worth something, isn't it, to be right up to the minute on banking conditions throughout the country.

If you are not already a subscriber and want to find out just how valuable the Magazine can be to you and your institution, send us your check for $1 and we will put you on our list to receive THE BANKERS MAGAZINE for four months beginning with the current number.
